

FIREMEN SET NEW MARKS FOR FIRE FIGHTING

Cottagers at Marsh Creek Heights breathed easier today with a feeling of assurance that, should fire ever strike in the row of summer homes on the south bank of the creek, the Gettysburg Fire Department could bring such a blaze quickly under control and prevent serious loss.

In a test conducted Thursday night, firemen had water from two high pressure booster lines exactly eight minutes after the Mack pumper left the engine house. Firemen "clocked" the distance at 5.6 miles.

Other records for speedy action were also set. In 12 minutes from the time the firemen left the engine house, a portable pump was hooked up and was pumping water from the creek bank to the Mack and two inch-and-a-half lines from the latter pumper were in operation.

Cross Creek With Hose

And in 15 minutes from the time the GMC pumper No. 1 drove away on E. Middle St. two inch-and-a-half lines had been hauled across the creek from the north bank in boats and were in action throwing water.

The Mack truck left the engine house at 6:33 p.m. Water was being pumped from the booster lines at 6:41 p.m. almost seven miles from the start.

The Mack was first to leave, followed by the No. 1 pumper and the service truck, which carries the portable pump. The Mack stopped in the rear of the cottage of Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, Gettysburg surgeon, a short distance west of the dam.

The No. 1 pumper was at the creek side on the north bank, and the service truck was located behind the Mack. The portable pump had to be carried approximately 150 feet from the driveway to the creek, and a two-and-a-half inch line laid back to the big pumper.

The test also provided an excellent demonstration of the advantages of radio communication. Both pumps were in constant contact with the central station in the fire engine house and with each other on opposite banks of the creek. The radio was used to relay information to the engine house on the progress of the firemen in fighting the imaginary fire.

Numerous cottagers who witnessed the test also heard a conversation between Murray Miller, radio operator at the engine house, and the fire system radio operator at Fairfax, Va. The latter station heard the Gettysburg station and trucks talking and inquired about the test. "That's excellent work," the Fairfax operator said, when Miller gave him the test figures.

Cottagers who feared that, because of the frame construction of their summer homes and their nearness to each other, fire might sweep the entire row, were high in their praise of the test.

"We'll feel a lot safer now," several of them commented.

TELLS HOW TO CLEAN WELLS

Directions for cleaning wells in school yards which have not been in use during the summer vacation period, were given today by State Sanitarian William I. Shields.

"Use a 12-ounce can of chloride of lime," Mr. Shields said. "Be sure the bucket is not corroded, and mix the lime thoroughly with enough water to form a paste. Stir this paste into one gallon of water.

"The mixing should be done in the open air, outside of the building. Pour the mixture into the well or spring and allow it to remain 15 hours. Then draw off a generous amount of water each day. When the odor of chlorine has disappeared the water is safe to use if all causes of contamination have been removed."

Report Polio Patient As "Satisfactory"

The condition of Joseph Ciabaugh, 8, son of Mrs. Marie Ciabaugh, 140 Chambersburg St., stricken with poliomyelitis last week and removed Saturday to the contagious ward of the Harrisburg Hospital, was reported as satisfactory today.

Doctors said the boy has no paralysis and his case was described as stationary. He was taken ill on August 21.

16TH POLIO CASE

Leroy Walls Jr., 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Walls, Chambersburg R. 4, was removed to Harrisburg Wednesday from the Chambersburg Hospital after his illness was diagnosed as polio. He was the 16th Franklin County case this year.

Out On Bail

Mrs. Lillian B. Robinson, 47-year-old manufacturer, of Roslyn Heights, N. Y., sits in Mineola, N. Y., courthouse where she was arraigned Wednesday on a second degree forgery charge. Mrs. Robinson, president of Ideal Insulators, Inc., of Roslyn, is accused of forging Federal Housing Authority loan applications to obtain illegally between $450,000 and $500,000 in cash. She was held in $10,000 bail for grand jury action.

Three Waves Of Warplanes Blast North Korea Capital

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Three giant waves of warplanes from four Allied nations today strafed and bombed Pyongyang—battered capital and largest city of North Korea—in one of the mightiest raids of the war.

Land and carrier-based fighter bombers made 765 sorties—individual flights—in the first two smashes at the Red nerve center. They dropped 340 tons of bombs and sprayed Pyongyang with machine-gun bullets. Size of the third wave, which returned at dusk, was not announced immediately.

City Was Warned

A returning U. N. pilot said the big city—forewarned of the raid by radio and leaflets—"was blowing up all over."

A morning wave of 420 jet and prop-driven planes dived straight for anti-aircraft batteries which pilots said threw up a heavy curtain of flak. The second and third waves concentrated on fat Communist targets—factories, air-strips, power plants, stockpiles, and billets.

Pyongyang was struck the biggest single air blow of the war last July 11, when more than 500 fighter bombers and Superforts poured poured 1,400 tons of bombs on it during 1,200 sorties.

Some 420 planes poured 4,000 gallons of flaming gasoline and 597 tons of high explosives on more than 40 Communist targets during the dawn-to-dusk raids. They sprayed 52,000 rounds of machinegun bullets on the area, the Air Force said.

FOUR ARE FINE

Four motorists apprehended by McSherrytown Chief of Police Manard Masemer have paid 10 fines each to Justice of the Peace I. M. Staub, McSherrytown.

Those fined were Ralph H. Arendt, Glen Rock; Charles M. Kneaf Jr., Thomasville R. 1, and Gerald C. McCarthy, Arendtsville, all charged with driving too fast for conditions, and Dale R. Ellicker, Hanover, charged with reckless driving.

MOVERS AFTER SEPTEMBER 4 CANNOT VOTE

September is an important month on the political calendar. Two of these important dates fall on September 1, which is the last day for candidates nominated at the primary election by write-ins or by stickers to pay their filing fees or have the office declared vacant. It is also the last day for the withdrawal of candidates nominated at the primary or by nomination papers.

September 4 is the last day an elector may move from one election district to another in order to be eligible to vote at the general election. September 10 is the last day to file substituted nomination certificates to fill vacancies caused by withdrawal of candidates.

September 13 is the last day to register before the general election; September 15 is the last day before general election on which notices of removal from one election district to another must be received by county boards in boroughs, towns or townships.

Election November 4

November 4 is the date of the general election, but there are other dates on the calendar preceding this one. Among them are:

October 6: Last day before general election on which notices of removal from one election district to another must be received by county boards of elections in cities of the second class; last day on which notices of removal within the same election district must be received by county boards (except that where removal was within the same district and no notice was filed, it may be filed on the next election day after the removal with the judge of election and the elector may vote.)

October 10: Last day for county boards of elections to mail military ballots and veterans' ballots before general election.

October 25: Last day before general election an elector who has, since the time of registration, suffered a physical disability which requires him to have assistance in voting, may personally make application to the proper registration commission to have such fact entered on his registration card.

Election Day Hours

October 25: Last day on which notices of removal within the same election district must be received by county boards in cities of the second class and cities of the second class.

October 25: Last day on which notices of removal must be received by county boards in cities of the first class.

October 30: Last day for county boards to post the military file and the veterans' file before election.

County boards of elections are required to file before election.

13 STUDENTS ARE GRADUATED

A brief ceremony for 13 Gettysburg College students who have completed requirements for graduation was held in the office of Dr. Walter C. Langsam, college president, Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Dr. Harold Dunkelberger, teacher of Bible, gave the invocation and benediction.

Those graduated were: John H. S. Austin, Aberdeen, Md.; Shirley Ann Brockmann, Elmhurst, Ill.; Thomas P. Geary 3rd, Havertown; Mrs. Virginia Alice Gilmore, York; Philip A. Guy, Williamsport; Harry J. Koch, Kingston, N. Y.; Andrew P. Kordalewski, Westminster; Philip P. Leadbetter, Harwick Center, Mass.; Brewster L. Locke, Washington, D. C.; William G. Seagraves, New Oxford R. 2; George C. Shaffer, Bloomsburg; Nancy L. Wertman, Delano, Pa., and Frank Frain, Pittsburgh.

LICENSED TO WED

James F. Short and Mildred I. McGlaughlin, Fairfield R. 2, have secured a marriage license in Westminster.

AGED BED-RIDDEN WOMAN IS EVICTED FROM HER MANSION

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sheriff's deputies broke into a Wilshire district mansion yesterday and in pursuance of an eviction order carelessly carried out a bedridden 88-year-old woman.

The elderly woman, Mrs. Margaret Miller, showed no alarm at the sudden appearance of the deputies who gained entrance to the 12-room home by scaling a ladder to a second floor window. Mrs. Miller was carried downstairs in a stretcher and then taken to the county's general hospital for a checkup.

Packed in large boxes throughout the house were packages, marked rush delivery, from various department stores. All were unopened.

There were evidences in the house that Mrs. Miller had recently been cared for. There was a fresh pan of water by her bed and there were eggshells and unwashed dishes in the kitchen sink. Two other members of the family, Mrs. Anne Disney Thomson, 52, and her husband, James, were not home when the officers entered. Mrs. Thomson is the niece of Mrs. Miller.

Behind the eviction is a long history of court actions. Personal possessions of Mrs. Thomson were loaded into a van and taken to a warehouse on order of Superior Court. The order for eviction and possession of the personal property and house was issued by Superior Judge Thurmond Clarke to satisfy a $7,500 judgment obtained by Grant M. Lorraine, guardian of Mrs. Thomson's brother, David T. D. Conwell, a mental patient at the Palo Alto Veterans Hospital.

The Wilshire district home was purchased with a portion of Conwell's funds. Later the court gave the guardian permission to sell the home and use the funds for Conwell's care.

Rec. Board Will Hear State Official

Important matters affecting the Gettysburg Recreation Association and the recreation program and direction will be discussed by Kenneth Abell, State Education Department, at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the association Wednesday night, September 3.

The meeting will be held in the borough council chambers at the fire engine house, according to Mahlon P. Hartzell, secretary, and all school directors, school solicitors, members of the borough council and its solicitor, Atty. Eugene V. Bulleit, and Burgess William G. Weaver have been asked to attend.

Parents Talk With Son In Morocco Over "Short Wave"

A father in Gettysburg and a son in French Morocco who had not seen each other for months recently conversed with each other by short wave radio for an hour and a half. "Mother" also talked with her far-away son, and parents and son expect to repeat the experience again soon.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Trostle, 372 E. Middle St. Their son, Airman 1/C Walter M. Trostle, is a radar operator with the Air Force at a desert outpost near Casablanca. He enlisted in the Air Force almost two years ago, after graduating at Gettysburg High School in 1947 and for a time helped his father in the latter's appliance store he then operated on Chambersburg St.

Boosted Morale

On a card which "June" later wrote from the Air Force short wave station CN8GC, he said: "My talk with you boosted my morale 100 per cent," and Mr. Trostle said he and his wife were as glad to hear their son's voice as he was to hear theirs.

The short wave conversation was arranged by Frank Alderfer, president of the Lancaster Broadcasting Co. and operator of Station WLAN, who has a short wave radio set in his home in Neville, four miles from Lancaster.

Mr. Alderfer heard Airman Trostle and called Mr. and Mrs. Trostle at 12:45 a.m. Arrangements were then made to have the Trostles go to Mr. Alderfer's home. A date was set with the son, and the short wave contact made on the date arranged.

Hit 150 Degrees

Mr. Trostle said it was 8 o'clock, EST, but midnight in Morocco. "I knew his voice as soon as he started talking," Mr. Trostle said. "He told us about his work there, and mentioned, among other things, that the temperature sometimes goes as high as 150 degrees."

Mr. Trostle said his son expects to return to the United States in January or February, and will be reassigned to the West Coast. Before he comes back, however, the Trostles expect to talk to each other again by radio, when "June" sets the time, through the Alderfer set.

DULLES RAPS "TERMITES" IN GOVERNMENT

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—John Foster Dulles today attacked "termites" in government and declared a greater measure of patriotism is needed among all in authority as "we look into the awful abyss of atomic and hydrogen war."

In a speech prepared for the National convention of Amvets, the Republican party foreign policy adviser declared:

"Termites can destroy the noble edifice that our forebears built. They must be rooted out, and the loyalty which qualifies their successors must be something more positive than the negative virtue of not being a known member of the Communist party."

General Attack

Dulles told the World War II veterans:

"When I speak of those 'in authority,' I have in mind not only the handful of conspicuous men at the top, but also the hundreds of thousands of government servants in all branches of public service. When government is so big that it spends 80 billion dollars a year, a few men at the top cannot keep track of all that goes on. Often it is the inconspicuous persons who exert the greatest influence upon policy and, above all, upon performance."

OFFICE IS ROBBED

State police of the Gettysburg substitution today reported that the truck terminal and office of the Harry C. Kuhn trucking firm on the Carlisle Rd. near Aspers was entered early Thursday morning. Pinball and cigarette vending machines were broken open and contents taken. No estimate was given of the loss. An investigation is being made.

REB BAND GIVES CONCERT HERE; HAS MASCOT, 12

Confederate gray and the Stars and Bars returned to Gettysburg Thursday almost 90 years after the original Johnny Rebs paid a visit here.

Clad in Confederate gray 60 men of the 31st Dixie Division Band from Alabama and Mississippi arrived at 4 p.m. for a more peaceful mission than their forebears.

The men of the Dixie Band came to Gettysburg to round out a goodwill concert tour which began 10 days ago and has carried them in three Army buses through Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York.

Now stationed at Camp Atterbury, Ind., the men of this former Deep South National Guard Division have traveled over 20,000 miles in their music-making excursions since being called to the Federal colors in January of 1951.

Has "Yankee" Men

The band, which consists of many "Yankee" men from the northern states as well as the original Southern component, ordinarily has 102 men. Due to a mechanical breakdown of one of the buses on the way here from the American Legion parade in New York City, 36 of the bandmen were unable to participate in the concert in Lincoln Square, yesterday.

The concert opened with the National Anthem. After this the band played its theme, "Dixie," the National Anthem of the Confederacy. Following up as a tribute to the Union troops who fought in the battle of Gettysburg they played "Yankee-Doodle."

One of the human interest features of the band is its mascot, 12-year old Mike Jenkins.

Mike is the son of the late Warrent Officer R. L. Jenkins of Union, S. C., who was with Army bands for over 20 years before his death in November, 1950.

Is Musician

Mr. Jenkins was the cousin of Warrant Officer Daniel Miller, also of Union, S. C., who is presently the director of the Dixie Division Band.

With the death of his cousin Mr. Miller adopted young Mike who is a musician in his own right.

Since last July Mike has been the official mascot of the band and has traveled with them on all of their many musical engagements, playing a trumpet in the brass section.

Next month Mike will return to South Carolina in time for school.

MAN IS PINNED BETWEEN CARS; IS BADLY HURT

An Iron Springs man suffered concussion, lacerations of the head and face, a deep laceration of the left leg and multiple lacerations and abrasions of the body at 8:45 p.m. Thursday when he was pinned between two automobiles and thrown by the highway near his home.

State police of the Gettysburg substitution said that Harry Carbaugh, 40, of Fairfield R. 1, left his home to drive to a store nearby, and that about 100 yards from his home a truck passed him with a load of empty oil cans.

One case of the empty cans spilled from the truck, police said, and Carbaugh stopped his car to pick them up. A car driven by Clarence W. Kint, 28, Blue Ridge Summit, traveling in the opposite direction, failed to see Carbaugh and misjudged the distance to where the latter's automobile was parked.

Police said Kint's car struck the Carbaugh vehicle, pinning Carbaugh between the two automobiles and then throwing him to the roadway. He was brought to the Warner Hospital by a passing motorist.

The accident occurred on the Fairfield-Greentown Rd., a mile from Iron Springs. Damage to the Carbaugh car was estimated at $25 and to the Kint car at $5.

Legion Has Dinner For Softball Team

Members of the Legion softball team in the Gettysburg Softball League were guests of the Albert J. Lentz Post 202 at a dinner for them Thursday night at the Legion home.

Those attending included Manager Paul Anzeberger and the following members of the team: Si Monforte, Tom McGlaughlin, Tom Small, Max Hensley, Ted McKenrick, Paul Hawn, Guy Crist, Sam Desimone, Jack Rindinger, Sterling Kint, William Pinko.

William E. (Johnny) Knox, president of the league and new president of the Gettysburg Recreation Association, spoke briefly.

Kenneth Sease, the team's bat boy, was also a guest.

SELL PROPERTY

Thomas J. and Bennie M. Vaughn, Fairfield R. 2, have sold their farm and equipment in Liberty Township to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Norris, Pikesville, Md. Early possession will be given. The sale was made through John C. Bream and Son.

Heart Stopped 26 Minutes

Marcus G. Riddell, shown here with his wife and two-week-old son, Christopher, is recovering at his home in Latrobe, Pa., August 18, after an operation in a Philadelphia hospital in which doctors said his heart stopped beating 26 minutes. Surgeons revived him by massaging his heart with their fingers.

Blue Cross Director Denies Late Bills Lapse Contracts

Subscribers in the Blue Cross plan of hospital care are protected against lapses in their agreements by a clause which gives them a 30-day period of grace, according to Clement W. Hunt, executive director of the Capital Hospital Service, Inc. of Harrisburg.

The statement was made and amplified in a letter from Hunt to Dr. Roy W. Gifford, Warner Hospital, in answer to an anonymous letter from "A Subscriber," addressed to Dr. Gifford, and forwarded by him to Harrisburg.

The writer said some holders of Blue Cross plan policies in Adams County were "concerned" over their coverage in the event they need hospitalization and their bills have been received after their due date.

"From time to time much is heard about socialized medicine and many arguments are put forth in order to show the evils of the same," said the anonymous writer. "Much attention is directed to the fact that there is available to people such services as Blue Cross, etc., furnished by the Capital Hospital Service, Inc. of Harrisburg."

Cites Peace Of Mind

"These various medical services are offered by non-profit corporations for the purpose of giving subscribers a peace of mind in that if they need hospitalization the service which they have paid for will be furnished under the policy," the letter continued.

"The strange thing about it is that for some reason unknown to dozens of subscribers locally, they never receive their bills for days after the same are payable at a local financial institution. In other words, the subscribers to Blue Cross do not receive their bills for their premiums until after the monies are payable, at which time the subscriber is in default."

Wants Bills On Time

"Consequently these folks are greatly concerned with the fact whether or not they actually are protected, for at any time in the future Blue Cross can raise objections or point to certain provisions in the policy showing that, due to non-payment, the policy was not in effect and therefore the subscriber is not entitled to most of the services granted under the policy."

"Since Blue Cross and the remainder of non-profit organizations are pointed out as examples of assisting in case of an emergency, why is it that they do not get out their bills on time so that the subscribers can pay on time? It may be well to forward this to the proper officers of the organization for their attention."

SALEM, Mass. (AP)—A Coast Guard mercy plane today plucked a soldier off a troop transport in the Atlantic to help speed him to his tragedy-filled Nebraska home.

The two-engine seaplane—the second to attempt the mission—flew three hours and 45 minutes to the side of the Navy transport Gen. Alexander Patch, about 500 miles northeast of New York, and about an hour later began its return flight to the Coast Guard Air Station at Salem, Mass.

Heavy Atlantic waves yesterday crippled an Air Force plane sent to pick up T. Sgt. Charles R. Buggy and fly him to his Winnebago, Neb., home.

There one of his two children was dead of polio, his other child lay ill of the same disease, and his wife—suffering from a serious spinal ailment.

The first mercy plane landed successfully on the water near the transport but collided with a lifeboat lowered from the ship to secure a line between the two craft. The plane's propeller was damaged.

Buggy, a World War II veteran who enlisted in the Army early this year, has been stationed in Germany.

His 4-year-old son Charles Jr. died two days ago at a Sioux City, Ia., hospital.

His 6-year-old daughter Kathleen is still a polio patient at the same hospital. Her condition was listed as good.

And surgeons said they hesitated to operate on his wife unless he was at her bedside.

PLEADS GUILTY AS COMPANION IS ACQUITTED

Robert Junior Kauffman, Mt. Tabor, pleaded guilty to charges of assault and battery, while Roy Calvin Keefe, also of Mt. Tabor, was found innocent of a similar charge by an Adams County jury Thursday afternoon.

Kauffman pleaded guilty just before he was to be tried on the assault and battery charge growing out of an altercation with Aspers firemen at the annual Aspers Firemen's Festival July 19.

Both Kauffman and Keefe were scheduled to stand trial in connection with a fight in the parking lot at the festival, but immediately before the jury was drawn Kauffman stepped before the judge's bench with District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter and changed his plea.

Trial of Keefe then began with Kauffman as the principal witness for the commonwealth.

Kauffman told the jury he, his father and some others had gone to the festival. In the parking lot "one thing led to another," he said, "and I hit him." "Him" was Russell Lupp, of the Aspers fire police who was handling traffic in the parking lot. Kauffman said he also hit Cecil Bean, an official of the Aspers Fire Department who came to the parking lot when it was reported to him that there was "some trouble there."

Kauffman added that after he struck Bean, Keefe had also hit the Aspers fireman.

Didn't See Assault

Lupp, brought to the stand, told of being hit, but said he had not seen who struck Bean. Bean said he did not know who hit him. He had started to turn, Bean said, when someone grabbed him and hit him from the rear. He staggered against a car from the effects of the blow and started getting away from the scene when he was struck again; either by someone, or something thrown, Bean said. On neither occasion did he see who or what hit him. Bean testified.

On cross examination Kauffman said he had not actually seen Keefe strike Bean, but said he "knew that Keefe hit him." He said Keefe had told him "he got in a blow."

Wanted To Change Plea

Keefe testified that he pleaded guilty at the preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace H. David Pitzer, "because Kauffman told me he'd beat me up if I didn't." He maintained that he had meant to plead not guilty at a later hearing but said the justice apparently was confused at what he was saying and marked him down as pleading guilty.

Kauffman, asked why he hit Bean, told the jury, "He came up asking if there was trouble, so I told him 'if you want it you'll get it' and hit him."

The jury hearing the Keefe case included James Moore, Gettysburg; Horner Cashman, York Springs R. D.; Gladys Heller, Idaville; Jacob Minter, Cashtown; Leon A. Hilbert, New Oxford R. D.; Leon A. Hilbert, Hanover R. D.; Mrs. Fernie Lookenbill, New Oxford; Mrs. Julia A. Myers, Gettysburg R. D.; Mrs. Myrna Wagner, Table Rock; Raymond Day, Hanover R. D.; Mrs. Hazel Hoffman, East Berlin, and Mrs. Virginia Zeigler, Abbottstown.

After finding Keefe innocent, the jury placed the costs on him.

Hear Larceny Case

An Adams County jury this afternoon was considering its verdict in the larceny charge against Fulton C. Martin, 36, Greenstone, after hearing testimony in the case this morning and Thursday afternoon.

Martin is accused of stealing a pocketbook containing $240 from the bedroom of George Woodring, Iron Springs, while he and four others were assisting in placing a refrigerator in Woodring's kitchen, which adjoined the bedroom.

Martin admitted he went to the Woodring home with Woodring, William Richardson, Fairfield R. 1; Merle Berkhimer, Fairfield R. 1, and Elwood Felix, Gettysburg R. 1, on the afternoon of August 2.

Woodring had obtained Richardson, Berkhimer and Martin to assist Felix, an employee of a Gettysburg appliance store, when Felix brought the refrigerator to the house and was unable to move the piece into the residence.

Martin said he helped move the refrigerator into the house but denied entering the bedroom or taking the money. Woodring had said that he had $240 in his pocketbook in the bedroom beside the radio.

The jury hearing the case includes: Mrs. Anna Laura Slaybaugh, New Oxford; Mrs. Margaret J. Brown, Gettysburg; Mrs. Sally Robinson, New Oxford R. 1; Eugene Smyser, Huntingdon Twp.; Arthur Bubb, East Berlin; Rodney C. Eline, McSherrytown; "Valter" Sheely, Germany Twp.; John C. Pyers, Littlestown; Joseph Bollinger, Cone-wago Twp.; Mabel V. Harner, Mt. Joy Twp.; Sterling Thomas, Lattimore Twp., and Clyde Andrew, Franklin Twp.

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Sarah Hippensteel, New Chester, Wednesday observed her eighty-eighth birthday. She spent the day with her son, Arthur Hippensteel, Hanover.

MONONGAHELA FACES NORWALK FOR LITTLE TITLE

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (P) — A team from either Pennsylvania or Connecticut today will be crowned 1952 Little League world champion.

Hard-hitting Monongahela, Pa., and determined Norwalk, Conn., were ready for the cry of "play ball" today in the game to determine the cream of the 8 to 12-year old crop.

Hackensack, N. J., and San Diego, Calif., nines also battle in a consolation game. Both were semi-finalists.

Monongahela battled its way into the final with a 10-1 victory over Hackensack here last night before 9,000 cheering fans.

George Fabian hurled a steady six-hitter for the Western Pennsylvanians while his teammates made the most of nine hits, two walks and seven New Jersey errors.

Two Big Guns
Dick Secane, who homered in the first inning, and John Stuyvesant, who drove in three runs, were the big guns for Monongahela.

Norwalk, New England district successor to Stamford, Conn., which won the world series title last year, made the finals two days ago with a close 2-1 win over San Diego.

In first round games of the eight team world series tournament, Monongahela defeated Mooresville, N. C. 3-2, while Norwalk whipped Whiting, Ind., 10-7.

MOVERS AFTER

quired, on or before November 3, to deliver the necessary ballots and supplies to the judges of election.

On Election Day polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Court will be in session in districts having one judge from 7 a.m. to noon; from 2 to 5:30 p.m. and from 7 to 10 p.m.

Return boards will meet at noon on November 7 to canvass and compute the votes. All military ballots and veterans' ballots must be received by the county boards not later than 10 a.m. on November 14 to be valid.

Will Draw Ties
On November 21 candidates who received tie votes will draw lots at noon before the secretary of the commonwealth or the county election boards to determine elections.

If the fact of the tie vote is not authoritatively determined until after November 19, the time for casting lots shall be noon on the second day after the fact of such tie vote is authoritatively determined.

November 24 is the last day for county boards to file returns with the secretary of the commonwealth, and the last day to file petition to contest the election of any candidate.

December 4 is the last day for candidates for nomination, including those nominated by write-ins or by stickers, and treasurers of political committees to file general election expense accounts in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth or the county election board.

December 5 is the first day to register after the general election, and the first day to change party or non-partisan enrollment after election.

Electors for president and vice president will meet at noon on December 15 to cast their ballots. December 24 is the last day to petition the Court of Quarter Sessions for an audit of an expense account for the general election.

Wedding

Billet-Fissel

Miss Marian Elaine Fissel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Fissel, East Berlin, was married to Alfred Billett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Billett, Wellsville R. 1, last Saturday afternoon at Trinity Lutheran Church, East Berlin, by the Rev. Lester J. Karschner.

The bride's principal attendant was the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Earl E. March, East Berlin. Mrs. Geraldine Lemmon Leib was another attendant. Nine-year-old Janet Wharton, Camp Hill, the bride's cousin, was a junior bridesmaid, with Charleen Rutschky, State College, as flower girl. The ring-bearer was Kenneth March, nephew of the bridegroom, and the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Earl E. March, was best man, with Archie D. Leib Jr., East Berlin, and the bride's cousin, Bryson Wharton, Camp Hill, as ushers.

Following the ceremony the couple left on a trip to Canada where they are visiting Montreal and other well known sightseeing points. They will make their home for a time with the bride's parents while Mr. Billett, who is completing his final year at Pennsylvania State College, does his practice-teaching in York. Mrs. Billett has had a clerical position in York with the York-Hoover Corporation.

Both are graduates of the East Berlin high school, the bridegroom in 1945, after which he spent some time in the Navy, and the bride in 1949.

PLAN TO SWIM SECOND CHANNEL

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (P) — Ray Carmassi, the seventh man to swim the rough Catalina Channel, hopes to tackle the English Channel next.

The 23-year-old San Francisco former Marine grinned as he waded shore yesterday at nearby White's Point, 18 hours and 20 minutes after he left Santa Catalina Island, more than 21 miles away. Carmassi, who aught combat survival swimming in the Marines, didn't complain about his ordeal in the water.

He was ill the first seven hours. An ear plug fell out of his left ear and salt water rushed in. A doctor gave Carmassi ear drops and fashioned a new plug for him.

Coast Guardsmen shot three sharks when they approached the swimmer. Later a large school of porpoises came snooping close by. The accompanying craft drove most of them away but one brushed his face. Carmassi's last hurdle before reaching shore was a heavy kelp bed which hampered him for the last 200 yards.

"What a workout," he exclaimed later as he lay in a bathtub. Carmassi said the wind and tides helped him.

Breaks Up Ball Game With Street Homer

By The Associated Press

There are few rewards toiling for a cellar club, but Jim Barry of the Wellsville Rockets felt the tingle of a champion last night after his 10th inning homer all but knocked the Jamestown Falcons out of the Pony League pennant race.

Barry slammed the second pitch of the extra inning into the distant streets to hand Bob Weber his 4th win, 4-3, and put the Falcons four games off the pace.

League-leading Hamilton took the Cornin A's, 6-5, as relief pitcher Bill Hooper squeezed home Eddie Jones with the decider in the 8th.

32 Registered At Fairfield Thursday

Twenty-three Republicans and nine Democrats were registered Thursday at Fairfield by the special registrars touring the county this week and next week preparatory to the closing of the registration books for the November election.

The new voters bring to 78 the total enrolled during the first three days of the special registration. Of that number 54 are Republicans and 24 Democrats. Today the traveling registrars are at Biglerville. Saturday they will be at McSherrystown and Tuesday at York Springs.

Horse Show Prizes Are Displayed Here

Trophies and ribbons to be awarded in the horse show at the South Mountain Fairgrounds next week are now on display in the window of Blocher's Jewelry Store.

The horse show will open at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, September 6, and continue during the afternoon. Eighteen classes have been listed in the competition for ponies, driving horses, jumpers, saddle horses, brood mares and foals and western horses.

LeRoy W. Winebrenner, chairman of the horse show committee, said that entries were surpassing all expectations and that the show would be the best ever held at the fair.

Faces Charge Of Reckless Driving

Police Chief Mannard Masemer of McSherrystown has filed a charge of reckless driving against Arnold W. Wirt, Gettysburg R. 4, whose mother, Mrs. Alma R. Wirt, 83, died as the result of injuries received August 21 when a car driven by her son, struck a parked car in McSherrystown after a collision with another vehicle. Wirt will receive a notice to appear before Justice of the Peace I. M. Staub, McSherrystown.

York County Coroner Lester J. Sell said that no inquest will be held.

INDIANS SPLIT DOUBLEHEADER; FAIL TO GAIN ON IDLE YANKS

By RALPH RODEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The schedule clearly favors the Cleveland Indians in their quest of the 1952 American League pennant but one disturbing factor in the otherwise serene picture is the Detroit Tigers.

Cleveland is due to meet the tail-end Tigers nine times before the curtain falls on Sunday, Sept. 28. At first glance it would appear that this is a feather in Cleveland's cap but the marooned Tigers have a nasty habit of beating the Indians at the most inopportune moments.

Detroit, then in fifth place, upset the Indians' apparent last year by sweeping a three game set from the Tribe late in September to kill their chances of overhauling the New York Yankees.

The specter of 1951 haunted the Indians again last night as they missed a chance to pick up ground on the front-running Yankees by splitting a twin-bill with the Tigers before 53,988 fans.

Another For Mal

Early Wynn coasted to his 17th victory in the first game, won by the Indians, 9-3, but Hal Newhouse turned back the Tribe, 4-1, for the 19th victory of his major league career in the second. As the Yankees were idle, Cleveland remained two games off the pace.

The Indians have 27 games left to play including 20 of their last 22 at home. The Yanks also have 27 games left but 18 of them are on foreign soil. The third place Red Sox have 31 games to go but 22 of them are away from home and Boston is known as a poor road club.

The Red Sox also blew a chance to gain by dropping the first game of a doubleheader to the rising Philadelphia Athletics, 6-4. The second game was rained out.

Brooklyn Over Cubs

Brooklyn, meanwhile, continued its march to the National League flag by dumping the Chicago Cubs, 9-6, to remain 9½ games ahead of the runner-up New York Giants. The Giants swamped Pittsburgh, 14-7, while Cincinnati edged Boston, 5-4, in 11 innings and Philadelphia outlasted St. Louis, 10-6, in the circuit's only night game.

Rubber armed Joe Black, making his 44th appearance of the season, gained credit for his 11th victory for Brooklyn. Black relieved Clem Labine in the fifth and checked the Cubs on one run the rest of the way. The Dodgers broke a 5-5 tie with four runs in the seventh to win.

Wash. On Pitchers

Little Dave Koslo had a picnic at Forbes Field as the Giants drubbed five Pittsburgh pitchers for 16 hits including a home run by Whitey Lockman and three hits each by Al Dark and Bobby Thomson. Koslo, ahead 7-1 after three innings, granted 11 hits including Ralph Kiner's 29th homer.

Robbie Roberts staggered to his 21st victory of the season as the Phils lambasted the Cards. The Phils opened a 5-0 lead in two innings but Red Schoendienst cracked a three-run homer in the seventh to tie the score at 6-6. Richie Ashburn drove home two runs in the eighth to snap the tie and Smokey Burgess clinched it with a two-run homer in the ninth. The loss was the Cards' sixth straight and it cut their advantage over the fourth place Phils to three and a half games.

GAME COSTLY; USE 102 BALLS

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The New York Giants completed a three-game series sweep with the lowly Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday by banging out 16 hits to cop a 14-7 victory.

The Pirates used five pitchers in a vain effort to halt the Giant attack. Jim Waugh was charged with the defeat. Dave Koslo scattered 11 hits to pick up the win. Ralph Kiner hit his 29th homer.

The Pirates front office reported it was a costly contest, no fewer than 102 balls being used. Baseball of the major league variety cost $2.50 apiece. Many of the Buc fans took home souvenirs from fous hit into the stands. The Buc management pointed out it cost $255.

TWILIGHT BASEBALL LOOP

Arendtville, who copped the regular season championship of the Twilight Baseball League, won the opening game of the final playoff series by lacing Orrtanna 12-1 on the Arendtville diamond Thursday evening.

The winnow pushed over three runs in the first inning and faced no threat thereafter. They pounded over six additional runs in the last of the fifth frame before the game was halted due to darkness.

Arendtville collected a total of 12 hits while Dick Pitzer gave up but four to Orrtanna. The victors also made good use of six Orrtanna errors. H. Deardorff, Orrtanna, and Bucher, Arendtville, each poled homers.

The second game of the five-game series will be held next Tuesday evening at Orrtanna.

PLAYOFFS WILL FEATURE SUNDAY BASEBALL CARD

Two baseball leagues will open their Shaughnessy playoffs Sunday while one, the Pen-Mar, will conclude its regular campaign with games Sunday and again Labor Day.

Opening games in the playoffs of the South Penn League will find third-place Greenmount playing at Bonneville, regular season champions, while fourth-place Hanover plays at Brushtown.

Penn-Maryland playoffs will include Taneytown at Fairfield, and Harney at New Windsor.

Regularly scheduled games in the Pen-Mar circuit Sunday include Littlestown at Emmitsburg, New Oxford at Cashtown, Thurmont at Union Bridge and Westminster at Fairfield. Monday's games include Cashtown at Westminster, Union Bridge at Littlestown, Fairfield at New Oxford and Emmitsburg at Thurmont. Games involving Westminster are expected to be forfeited inasmuch as Westminster has failed to appear for several recent games.

Tonight Cashtown will play at Littlestown, finishing a postponed game at 7:30 with the playoff of a postponed game following.

REWARDS

It is strange how people fight to attain rewards of one sort or other. Otherwise they would make no such effort. The greatest, and most valued reward for any of us, is that one which marks the achievement of our ideal, or purpose.

The trained animal won't do his tricks unless he is rewarded with something that is pleasing to his taste. I am inclined to think that many a contestant, where some reward of a special nature is offered, loses sight of the real value of achievement, putting all his energies into that mere reward. There is no reward so important and enduring, as the consciousness of that one who has done his best, and accomplished well what he set out to do, neither wishing nor hoping for any reward. Personal satisfaction and happiness surpass all other rewards.

I recall when the majority of athletic contests were for the glory attained. Now it is largely the money that controls. So much so that the best and most worthy opponents are not always selected, and the event simmers down to a poor effort on the part of all contestants, or else with the idea in mind of performing only good enough to warrant a return match or a contest that will draw more money.

Neither the best students, nor those who have been rewarded from time to time for meritorious service, are those who later shine in life or who become most distinguished. Often it is the one that no one paid any attention to, considering him or her just average or mediocre. And think of the great ones in after life who never saw the inside of a college! He doesn't miss the rewards and medals. He is happy over the satisfaction of having been born with initiative and a desire to excel and become useful.

Admiral Peary once wrote to me and said that to have discovered the North Pole was an achievement that gave to him the pure joy of having done something no other one up to that time had done. The pure pleasure was reward enough.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Men Wanted."

Just Folks

THE NOBLER SIDE

If shelter, food and clothing were Our only needs while here on earth. Then bread and meat and coats of fur Would be the surest proof of worth.

If men had nothing more to seek Than comfort down the path of years. There'd be no mercy for the weak; No pity for another's tears.

But, there exists a nobler side That asks the choice 'twixt right and wrong. And men require a truer pride Than that of merely being strong.

We all must serve the body's needs. But there's a debt each mortal owes. In unrequited gracious deeds Through which the soul eternal glows. Copyright, 1952, Edgar A. Guest

Mt. Pinnacle has an altitude of 1,700 feet. The climb requires about two hours.

POLICE TRAP

FBI FUGITIVE

PACIFIC, Mo. (AP)—Police, convinced they have a cordon around William Merle Martin, 42, one of the FBI's 10 most-wanted fugitives, adopted a starve-him-out attitude today.

"We can't possibly get enough men to comb those woods thoroughly," Capt. Lewis Howard of the Missouri Highway Patrol said. "Our men could go within three feet of him in some sections and not know it. We'll just have to wait until he gets hungry enough to make a break."

A driver of a car, stolen in Birmingham, Ala., several days ago, fled into a rugged section of Western St. Louis County, about 40 miles west of St. Louis, after highway troopers forced the vehicle into a ditch.

Suspect Flees

They said the man, believed answered Martin's description. Around dusk last night two armed farmers, part of a large group of civilians who have joined county, state and federal authorities in the area, saw a man who appeared to be Martin walk from the woods.

The man spotted them and fled. They fired shotguns but apparently didn't hit him. Martin, who began a crime career in 1929, got on the FBI list after the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Willard Carver near Olathe, Kan., June 23.

Penn State May Lose Quarterback

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—Rip Engle, Penn State football coach, may be forced to dip into his pool of sophomore reserves to fill Tony Rados' quarterback spot.

The veteran Rados suffered a knee injury recently and may spend the season on the sidelines. Engle can choose from sophomores Don Bailey of Pittsburgh, Johnny Dubinsky of Indiana, or Norman Paul of Ambler, to share the key spot with Reading's Bob Szajna.

Murdered Girl Is Buried On Wednesday

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Adela Moskal was buried yesterday after a life of constant pain. Her father, who had killed her to end her years of suffering, sobbed at her grave.

John Moskal sent his wife on a shopping errand Monday, then led Adela into the bathroom and plunged a butcher knife into her heart.

3 KIDNAPERS ARE SENTENCED
ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—Three Air Force privates, found guilty in the kidnaping of a Greenpeace leader, man last August, began serving their prison sentences today.
Two of the youths were given five year sentences. The third, who is 17, was tried under the juvenile delinquency act. He will serve until he is 21.
The Airman, sentenced yesterday, in U. S. District Court, are Robert A. Brennan, 19, of Pringle, Pa.; Charles R. Aris, 18, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Stephen Radjenovic, 17.
The three were convicted for kidnaping Adam M. Byers last Aug. 2.

Helped Kidnappers
Byers told the FBI that he picked up the youths while they were hitchhiking near Harrisburg, Pa. Shortly after he picked them up, Byers said, one of the trio pulled out a knife and forced him to move from the driver's seat. They then drove to Roanoke where Byers managed to escape.
Aris and Brennan were picked up in Medina, O., three days later. Radjenovic was arrested in Lackawanna, N. Y.
The FBI said the airman were AWOL from Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y., at the time of the kidnaping.

Couple Killed in Collision
DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—John Szyliński, 62, and his wife, Mary, also 62, were killed instantly yesterday when the car in which they were riding collided with a light delivery truck on a country road about five miles south of here.

The auto was driven by Mrs. Mary Szyliński, a sister-in-law of the dead man.
The driver of the truck, Willard Worthington, 29, of Silverdale, Pa., was not injured. Mrs. Szyliński suffered multiple bruises.

Buck County Coroner Russell Jacob T. Ferris issued a certificate of accidental death. Both Mrs. Szyliński and Worthington were held on a technical charge of manslaughter.
They will be given a hearing as soon as Mrs. Szyliński recovers from her injuries.

DAVID, THE STATESMAN

II Samuel 5:6-10; 8:13-18
Memory Verse: As for God, his way is perfect; the word of the Lord is tried; he is a buckler to all them that trust in him. II Samuel 22:31.

As soon as David was elected king over all the tribes, both of Judah and Israel, he started at once to establish the kingdom on solid foundations. He had used his years of preparation wisely, and was now ready to assume the vital role as Israel's leader. During his reign Israel enjoyed her Golden Age; she grew wealthy and powerful, and took her place in the world of nations. This did not happen by chance, but was accomplished by David's careful planning and decisive measures.

David's Program
In order to assure peace and prosperity within the nation's boundaries, David had to do three things: establish a new seat of government agreeable to all tribes; subjugate the enemy which continually waged war; and bring the Ark of the Covenant to the new capital. All this had to be done before David could give his undivided attention to domestic issues and foreign policies. His statesmanship is a model for any nation.

A New Capital
David decided he should not continue to rule at Hebron, but select a new site for the government — one that would please both Judah and Israel. He chose the Jebusite stronghold at Jerusalem because it stood high on a hill, had a strong north wall, and lay on the border between Judah and Israel. Immediately he and his army laid siege to the city and captured it. This opened the highway between Judah and the north and facilitated intercourse. Jerusalem was now the new capital of the kingdom — the City of David as it is sometimes called. Soon afterwards, the royal palace was built, a court established, and a vast building program begun.

Safeguarding The Nation
David realized that in order for the nation to grow and develop internally, it must safeguard its boundaries and conquer all marauding enemy tribes. This required considerable time and strategy, but David was a seasoned soldier and knew his enemies.

Twice the Philistines invaded the land, and were twice defeated near Jerusalem. After the second victory, David and his army invaded the Philistine country, took Gath, and in a few brief campaigns completely subjugated Israel's hereditary foe. In other successful campaigns, David conquered the Moabites, the Edomites, the Amalekites, and others. The Bible accounts record that God was with him and brought the victory.

The Religious Center
The next important thing for David to do was to have a religious center at the capital. To achieve this David built a tabernacle to house the Ark of the Covenant. Then he had to bring the Ark out of its hiding place and restore it to its rightful place as the center of Hebrew worship. This was accomplished under considerable difficulty, but finally he brought the Ark to Jerusalem with great ceremony, sacrifices, and rejoicing on part of the people. The City of David was no the religious as well as the political capital of the kingdom!

David knew that the success or failure of his administration, or of the kingdom, depended upon God's continued favor. Only through divine favor would Israel be prosperous and powerful! The Ark at Jerusalem would serve as a constant reminder to the people that God is always present, and that obedience to Him was the nation's first obligation.

David's religious nature was one of his distinguishing characteristics. He was instinctively spiritual and conscious of the fact that he was God's choice. God could never doubt his complete loyalty. When he did sin, he repented and suffered crushing punishment — the disloyalty and death of his favorite son.

Some of the craters of the moon are more than 100 miles in diameter.

Well, here we are, folks! The greatest group in America—the family! Along with millions of other families, we constitute the backbone of American life. We are America—America at her best!

We are all set to celebrate Labor Day—a holiday set aside by our government to emphasize the dignity and importance of labor as the basis of our national and individual prosperity.

We till the soil, man the shops and factories and offices, build the homes, support the schools and churches, and aim to have the best government and greatest freedom of any nation on earth. And that is just what we have.

In any period of national crisis, in war or peace, the government turns to us—the homes of America—the families and workers of America—and we never fail.

For our homes and our families are built on faith—faith in God's power and providence in human life. Our churches inspire us to live uprightly, to be happy and hopeful, and to build that most blessed of all institutions—the American home.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Do you believe in ^{Dollar} signs?

THERE are a lot of signs to guide you to the best buy in automobiles.

Popularity is a good sign.

It means that a lot of people have tried a car and found it good. So it's important to know that Buick is today—and has been since 1938—the most popular car outside the "low-priced three."

Room, comfort, power, ride are good signs.

So it's important to know that you can pay hundreds of dollars more and not beat the room and comfort you get in a Buick SPECIAL.

Nor, at the price, can you match its power. And only Buick gives you a real million dollar ride.

Doesn't all this give you a hint?

Doesn't it suggest that you ought to try out a Buick—sample its Fireball 8 Engine—find out how it takes you over the road—feel the sure control that is yours on curves—discover its "big car" room and smoothness?

Do that—and look at the dollars on the price tag—and we know what you'll find out:

If you can afford a new car, you can own a Buick—and boy, what fun that will be!

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

FIFTH GRADERS TO REMAIN AT RURAL SCHOOLS

The 1952-53 term of the Littlestown Joint School System will open Thursday, September 4. Schools will open at 8:45 a.m. and close at 3:34 p.m., with exception of the first day when school will close at noon. There have been little or no changes made in the bus routes and it is suggested by the administration that the children be at their designated stops in ample time, as drivers will be at least 15 minutes earlier the first day.

As in past years, the elementary school will have the privilege of using the high school cafeteria. However, there will be no cafeteria service the first day. The cost of the meal will be 25c and is payable by the day, week or month.

Two rural schools will be open this year, Oak Grove, Germany Twp., and Center, Union Twp. Grades 4, 5, and 6 will be taught in these schools. All pupils who have passed the fifth grade will remain in these rural schools and not report to Littlestown as in former years. This change has been made necessary pending the erection of the new school building which authorities hope will be ready for occupancy for the fall of 1953 when consolidation will have been completed in the jointure.

Mt. Pleasant Bus Route
Since part of Mt. Pleasant is now in the Littlestown Jointure, the bus for this area will operate as follows: It will begin picking up children over U. S. Route 140 to Two Taverns; proceed over 6-1003 to Bonneville, north over 01058 to the intersection of the county road, complete the triangle to 231, back through Bonneville and south over 01013 to the first township road, turn right and complete the loop to 01013, return northwest to Bonneville, proceed east on 231 to the intersection with 01068, southwest over 01068 to 01013 thence to Littlestown.

Children riding the Kline bus on Bonneville-Two Taverns Road will board this bus. It will be a bus marked Littlestown Joint School System. All bus stops on state highways have been designated by the Highway Department and school officials. Stop signs will be erected in the near future and drivers are required to make stops 50 feet beyond the stop sign.

87 New Pupils
Mrs. Brenda B. Walker, census enumerator, has announced that there will be 87 children in the first grade of the elementary school of

CROUSE Commenting

Well, I've been at this new business of John Deere Sales and Service for about 2 months, and I must say that it has been quite interesting: meeting people, renewing old acquaintances and finding new faces and personalities. I have not had the time to visit many of you farmers at your farms, but as I get more organized, I will be able to make more calls.

In keeping with my policy of obtaining the latest in new machinery and farming practices, I have taken on the Dealership for Portable Irrigation Systems for the Matheson Chemical Corporation as well as for their fertilizers. This company has its own chemical plants, and you can be sure that they will have the high analysis fertilizer when it is scarce at other plants. Speaking of fertilizer, those farmers who side dressed their corn and tomato crops are now reaping the rewards. With extra Nitrogen available, the crops were better able to withstand the hot weather with its dryness. Their corn is still green from the ground up and does not show the burned leaves on the lower sections of the stalks.

The new John Deere AB 20 Fertilizer Side Dressing Attachment which holds 700 pounds of fertilizer allows you to cultivate about 7 acres at 100 lbs. per acre before you have to stop to refill. Then if a fellow would have had an irrigation system set up ready to go this summer when the dry weather had us all worried, he would have been "sitting pretty" provided he had an adequate source of water, whether it be a farm pond, a stream, or a well.

Talk about controlling the corn borer and obtaining a good seed bed for your wheat or barley, you should see the job the new Wood's Rotary Cutter did for Edwin Harget on Clayton Palmer's farm near the Oak Grove Schoolhouse on the Littlestown-Taneytown Road! Boy, is that the machine for cutting and shredding weeds, grass, and brush! We took one down to Mr. Harold Herr's farm and gave it a work-out. We mowed pasture, wheat stubbles, shredded corn, and then we took it down into his bottom land to see what it would do in the brush. It cut and shredded small oak and willow trees up to 1 1/2" in diameter. Coming out of the brush we stirred up a nest of bumble bees, but no one got stung. That's one thing sure in your dealings with CITCO, no one's going to get stung. We deal fair and square for both our customers and ourselves.

One thing about this business, you never know what will turn up next. Take the other day when we took that Wood's Rotary Cutter down to Mr. Herr's for a demonstration, we never even had an idea that we would end up selling him a T-33 Milk Cooler of 8 can capacity. We got to talking about dairying, and one thing led to another, and by golly Mr. Herr bought one the next day. This T-33 is the new milk cooler which eliminates a lot of that heavy lifting of full cans of milk. The T-33 has a side opening door through which the empty cans are placed, and then the milk is strained through individual top openings for each can in the cooler. Another big advantage of this type of cooler is that the only change necessary when bulk handling comes, as it is destined to do before long, is a tank which fits into the side opening door. There is no reason for purchasing a new cooler if you should convert to Milking Parlor and Bulk Handling of milk.

The cooler which Mr. Herr will get is now at the CITCO display at the Kingsdale Firemen's Carnival and can be seen next week at the South Mountain Fair. Drop in to see us any time you are in the vicinity and if you can make the Kingsdale Carnival or the South Mountain Fair, John LeGore, Joe Clabaugh or I will be on hand to show you the features of our equipment.

Hold Family Night
Approximately 60 were in attendance at the family night meeting of the King's Daughters Sunday School Class of Christ Reformed Church on Wednesday evening in the church grove auditorium. The invocation was given by the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, after which the group enjoyed supper. A short program was presented in charge of Mrs. Paul Berwager and included a vocal selection by Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Berwager and daughter, Joyce; vocal duet, Joyce Berwager and John R. Roberts; group singing of "Blest Be the Tie," and the Lord's Prayer, repeated in unison. The children were entertained with games in charge of Mrs. Erwin A. Robert. A brief business session was conducted in charge of the class president, Mrs. G. Howard Koons. The time of the next regular meeting was not decided upon and the date will be announced later.

The players of the local Little League Baseball Club are requested to return their uniforms, clean, to the team managers as soon as possible.

The Mothers' Sunday School Class of St. Mary's Reformed Church, Silver Run, will conduct a refreshment stand at the Joseph Brown sale, near town, on Saturday, September 6.

The post office will receive and dispatch mail as usual Monday but only special deliveries and perishables will be delivered. The regular mail will not be delivered and there will be no window service.

Carnival Winners

The descendants of the late Annie and Augustus Dayhoff will hold their annual reunion on Monday, Labor Day, in Christ Church grove, near town. A basket lunch will be served at noon and a program will be presented at 2 o'clock.

St. Aloysius Parochial School will open on Tuesday morning with mass in the church for the children at 8 o'clock. School will convene at 8:45 a.m. and dismiss at noon on the first day.

Awards made at the Kingsdale Fire Company carnival being held all this week include: Monday, chrome breakfast set, won by Pete Hahn, Taneytown; Tuesday, Apex wash machine, Edward K. LOSES JOB FOR REFUSING STATE LOYALTY OATH

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania State College has fired the only member of its 3,800-employee staff who refused to comply with the commonwealth's 1951 loyalty oath law.

Wendell Scott MacRae, publications production manager of the department of information, was dismissed yesterday by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, Penn State president.

Dr. Eisenhower took action in the matter after the college loyalty board of review found that it lacked evidence to certify that MacRae "was not subversive."

The Penn State president said that if he were to fail to dismiss MacRae he could not make by Sept. 1 the certification of all employees to the governor as required by the law.

Would Lose Funds
"The governor would then have to withhold all state funds from the Pennsylvania State College," Eisenhower said in a statement. "This would obviously make it impossible for the institution to carry on its work."

He said the report of the board, which had given MacRae a hearing, "does not mean that Mr. MacRae is subversive."

"It means only that, based on the evidence offered to the loyalty review board, the board could not make the necessary certification within the authority granted to it by the college."

MacRae had maintained at his public hearing that the loyalty oath law was "unconstitutional" and that it was up to the board to prove he was subversive. He submitted his World War I U. S. Marine oath to the board in place of a loyalty questionnaire the college had issued to all employees.

Must Certify Loyalty

Under the state law, state-aided colleges and universities must certify as to the loyalty of their faculty and other employees or administrators the loyalty oath required to be taken by all state and local public employees, including school teachers.

MacRae charged that the procedure set up by Penn State went beyond the authority delegated in the act and that it "is not binding on employees of the college."

MacRae with held immediate comment on his dismissal although he had indicated earlier during a hearing that he might appeal the case to the courts in a test of the validity of the loyalty oath law.

LEGION AGAIN FOR SECURITY TRAINING LAW

NEW YORK (AP)—Lewis Ketcham Gough, newly elected national commander of the American Legion, urges national security military training legislation to keep the nation in a state of preparedness.

The 44-year-old Gough, a World War II veteran now living in Pasadena, Calif., was elected yesterday as head of the legion in the closing session of its 34th annual convention.

Gough, who served in the Navy with the rank of commander, overwhelmingly defeated his only rival, Walter E. Alessandrini, 36, of Philadelphia.

Job Pays $15.00

Gough is an inheritance tax appraiser employed by the state of California. His legion office pays $15,000 annually. Election is for the ensuing year.

At ceremonies in Madison Square Garden, Gough had the red cap of legion commander placed on his head by his predecessor, Donald R. Wilson of Clarksburg, W. Va.

RUSH PLANS FOR IKE'S SPEECH IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower's first "major political" speech as Republican presidential candidate comes off at Convention Hall here next Thursday. Right now it has several hundred Republicans chin-deep in work.

Ordinarily party workers have urged "intelligence, firmness and courage" in combatting communism, and pleaded for a decisive military program for the nation's youth.

"For 34 years the legion has had the answer," he said, "A national security training that is universal, economical, effective and safeguarded by civilian control."

"As your commander, I shall ask for your all-out effort for (such) legislation. . . ."

As the convention neared its close, the delegates urged an investigation of national Selective Service headquarters.

an endless amount of work in election years. But the appearance of the presidential candidate in their city or area adds to the work and causes a whirl of arrangements, such as:

A timetable for the candidate, appointments of committees, press, radio and television arrangements, hotel quarters for the candidate's entourage, a motorcade, placards, transportation for the party faithful to the speech, police escorts and . . . well, you get the idea.

Hours Of Work

Eisenhower's itinerary looks deceptively simple. But behind each movement, appearance, and speech there's a reason and hours of planning and preparation.

He arrives by rail at noon from New York City on Sept. 4 after a tour of six Southern cities. He must be met at the station by party leaders, arranged by protocol in the order of their importance. None must be neglected for fear of offending.

From there the motorcade (cars, drivers and traffic patrolmen must be procured) moves down Chestnut Street to Independence Hall.

Then Eisenhower must meet the proper officials, make the proper comments and leave within an hour. From there he moves to a hotel for meetings with the party's state committees. At each he must speak knowingly of their problems and at the same time not get bogged down in long conversations. The schedule must be met.

Other Problems

After the meetings, he meets the press at another downtown hotel. Then to Convention Hall.

Here the planners encounter other problems, such as the size of the crowd and the weather. Speeches by state dignitaries must be scheduled so they are finished by the time Eisenhower steps to the microphones and before the television cameras.

When the speech is finished and have to do is get out the vote.

POLIO CASES HIGH

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said yesterday that this year's total of polio cases is 68 per cent higher than last year's total over the same period.

So far in 1952, the foundation said, 19,980 persons have been stricken in the U. S. It said the total for the period in 1949, when the country suffered its worst polio epidemic, was 20,526. In 1951, it was 11,886.

Eisenhower is acknowledging the applause, you can be sure several hundred party workers will sigh with relief. From then on all they

In all the history of the world's commerce, it is doubtful whether another manufactured product has ever had such a hold on the affections of its owners as the Cadillac car.

There is a well-to-do gentleman in a southern state, for instance, who will permit no one to minister to his Cadillac except himself—other than for its mechanical needs. He washes it, polishes it and cleans it . . . himself.

There is a family in New York which has owned a long series of Cadillacs to which have been given the names of people—because they regard their cars as all but members of the household.

There is a professional man in a mid-western state who insists that his whole life changed for the better when he got his Cadillac.

These are but typical of innumerable instances of the deep regard in which Cadillac owners hold their cars. The loyalty and respect a Cadillac engenders are extraordinary indeed.

You might well ask what there could be about a motor car to make it mean so much to so many. The answer is not far to seek.

Because of its world-wide standing as one of life's better things, it reflects credit upon its owner and indicates that he is a person of substance and good taste.

Because it performs so well and so dependably, it is conducive to his desire to travel and to see the world—an inspiring companion for his daily movements among his fellows.

Because it is beautiful and luxurious, it is a joy to own and a pleasure to contemplate.

Standing in his driveway, rolling down the streets of his favorite city, or parked at the entrance to a distinguished club or hotel—it is a credit to his judgment and a testimonial to his work.

No wonder he cherishes it, and thinks of it as all but a part of his own personality.

Don't you think that a car which can mean so much to so many could mean a great deal to you?

Better come in today—and talk it over.

FIND BABY IN JUNIATA RIVER

NEWPORT, Pa. (AP)—A search party in boats found the body of 21-month-old William Beers in the Juniata River near here about 24 hours after the little boy had disappeared.

State police said Harry Little, 14, a Newport Boy Scout, stumbled upon the body as he waded the shallow stream with more than 50 other searchers yesterday.

The parents of the boy, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beers, of Oberlin, near Harrisburg, reported him missing while they and their five other children were on a picnic Wednesday. They said they last saw the child when he was playing with his twin brother.

Perry County Coroner Howard Bodorf said death was due to accidental drowning and said no autopsy or inquest would be held.

Mongolian In Moscow For Soviet Conference

MOSCOW (AP)—The Premier of the Soviet-Aligned Mongolian People's Republic arrived in Moscow last night from his Central Asian capital of Ulan Bator to take part in the current Russia-Red China talks.

The Mongolian chief, Tse Den Bal, was welcomed at the airport by Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Although the Mongolian premier gave no hint as to why he had come to Moscow, it was obvious his trip was in connection with the important Soviet-Chinese talks.

In a speech at the airport Tse Den Bal stressed his country's loyalty and gratitude to the Soviet Union and its "ever-strengthening friendly relations" with Communist China.

Seek Merit System For Health Workers

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—A plea for establishment of a merit system to choose public health workers ended the State Health Department's first annual conference here.

Dr. Russell E. Teague, health secretary, told some 1,200 public health workers yesterday that a program for job classification of health department workers will be given to the state advisory health board at its next meeting.

Dr. I. Hope Alexander, Pittsburgh, president of the State Public Health Association, announced support of Teague's program and asked others to make known their backing for a merit system.

Oldster Inventing Many Sports Gadgets

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—For a Johnny-come-lately inventor, 70-year-old Joe Parks is doing all right.

His inventiveness turned to sports since he has been a sportsman all his life, as well as a poultryman and banker. In the last year he has filed seven patents with the Patent Office that apparently are new and different. Among them are:

A leg fishing device that leaves the hands free for rowing.

A noiseless anchor that won't scare the fish. The weight can be increased by adding sand or gravel.

A fishing leader that can be retrieved from deep-hooked fish and another hook put on.

A rear-view boat mirror for row boats.

The word "nerve" originally meant tendon, but now refers to the structures through which the brain sends messages to the body, including much of the brain itself.

Parachutist Gets Pre-Jump Nerves

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Bert Craddock gets jumpy every time he gets ready to make a parachute jump. His wife gets jumpy too.

Bert, 38, has made 74 exhibition and training jumps in his 11-year jumping career. He packs his own parachutes.

A specialist in delayed jumps, he usually leaps from 3,500 feet and waits until he's 1,000 feet from the ground to pull the ripcord. Once, he says, air pressure prevented his chute from opening until he was only 200 feet up—and going down at the rate of 120 miles an hour.

$457,600 BRIDGE TOOL

SANDY POINT, Md. (AP)—The new Chesapeake Bay bridge that cost 45 million dollars to build took in $457,600 using its first four weeks of operation.

Bridge Director Louis J. O'Donnell said a total of 252,124 vehicles crossed the span during the period for an average of more than 9,000 per day.

16 KILLED IN FIRE
IZMIR, Turkey (AP)—A panicky stampede from a tobacco factory fire last night killed 16 women workers and severely injured 37 others. About 100 workers were hurt less seriously. Stairs and walls that collapsed in the crush accounted for most of the casualties.

Twenty-Ninth South Mountain Fair Will Open Next Tuesday Evening

Largest County-Wide Event Is Expected To Attract Many Thousands; Unusual Displays

Next Tuesday hundreds of men, women and children will move into the fairgrounds near Arendtsville to officially open the 29th edition of the South Mountain Fair, which through the years has developed until it more than lives up to its early slogan—"the show-place of Adams County agriculture." The fair opens at 6 p.m. September 2 and closes at 11 p.m. September 6.

The hundreds who will swarm into the buildings and tents of the fairgrounds Tuesday morning and afternoon will be the exhibitors and the committee members through whose efforts the fair each year comes into existence.

For many of the group the work of the fair begins days, weeks, even months before. They will have attended meetings planning the fair; they will have contacted friends and acquaintances to place exhibits at the fair; they will have gone to the fairgrounds prior to the event to clean buildings and decorate them for the big week. And during the week they will devote almost full time to the fair, from early morning until late at night helping with the operation of the event.

County-Wide Effort

A community-wide project, the fair is not only a great display of the county's agricultural production—it is also an expression of the cooperative effort of the county.

An excellent example of that co-operative effort occurred several years ago when the fair "family," as the committees, helpers, and others are called, decided to construct an auditorium. Men dropped their farm work and gathered day after day at the fairgrounds to volunteer their labor until the job was completed.

Originated At Picnic

Starting in the early 1920's as an idea discussed by a group of men, including M. E. Knoose, of Arendtsville, at a Sunday School picnic held in the grove now known as the South Mountain Fairgrounds, the fair has grown from a one day event to a week-long panorama of the county's accomplishments.

And through the years the fair has accurately depicted the growth and development of the county.

When the first fair was held, a few hundred brought their pigs, corn, canned foods, sewing and tatting, their cooking and their gardening products to be displayed in tents and in open corrals.

There were, even at those first fairs, the displays of automobiles, trucks and machinery, that have mirrored the rapid mechanization of Adams County farmers and farming. Reporters commented several years after the fair began that most of the cars then on display were sedans. The swing of the nation from the touring car to the enclosed motor vehicle was forecast, for those who could see, by the displays at the South Mountain Fair.

Change In Machines

Even more indicative of the revolution in farming methods in the county were the annual displays of farming machinery. Each year more and more, and newer types of farming machinery have been shown. And the new models at the fair, the new types of machines, have been indicative each year of the changes portending in the fields. In a sense the farm machinery exhibits have actually foretold the changes in agriculture, by displaying what the farmer is planning to use in the years to come.

$3,000 In Prizes

The 1,000 or more exhibitors, who will be competing for more than $3,000 in prizes, and who will crowd into the fairgrounds September 2 in a mass of cars, trucks and even horse and buggy conveyances and motorcycles, will be bringing with them prize examples of their poultry, their cattle, hemstitching, and their art, rabbits, cooking and handiwork.

The handwriting, of course, will be the production of the school children in the grades. Much of the art will also be the work of the school children. However, there will be enough art produced by adults to fill a large display space.

For many spectators, one of the most interesting sections of the fair is the children's division. Proud parents wander there, pleased to compare the work of their offspring with that of children from throughout the county.

School Exhibits

But for the general spectator the children's section has an even greater appeal—for it displays the ability of the county's schools to teach, and the county's children to learn.

There is the work of the first graders, laboriously printed letters that show the child's development as he first learns that letters can make words, and words can convey thought.

The development of the children from year to year is vividly shown by the handwriting examples of the various grades. The first graders' printing fades into the cursive writing of the second grader, who is beginning to learn the skill of writing. And the examples depict development year by year until the skilled products of the eighth grade handwriting experts is shown.

Memorial Auditorium At South Mountain Fair

Besides handwriting, the person attending the fair will see the development in art, grade by grade through the 12 school grades. The display starts with the crude but colorful drawings of the primary grades.

Shop Products Display

From there, in progressive steps, is shown the budding artistry of the students in the higher grades until the spectator comes to the fine work of the high school seniors.

And there is more to the school exhibit than the handwriting and the art. Occupying one side of the school display will be the products of the shops—the industrial arts courses—in the county's high schools. There professional-appearing tables, lamps, chairs, all types of articles in wood and metal are displayed, showing the skill achieved by the student mechanics and carpenters.

On the other side of the school display building are other examples of a different type of education given in the county. Under the banners of the various Future Farmers of America clubs are shown displays made by the students in the agriculture departments. The displays outline better ways of farming. One might show a sow and litter and methods of producing more pork at less cost. Another might depict methods of managing a dairy herd. The displays range through the whole list of skills necessary for a successful farmer and frequently prove educational even to men who have been in farming for years.

Fine Cooperation

The school displays are in example of the year-round character of the fair, officials of the fair point out. They are also an example of the manner in which the whole county cooperates in producing the South Mountain Fair.

At some time last spring the county superintendent's office sent out letters to all of the teachers in the county reminding them of the forthcoming fair and listing the wording of the handwriting exhibits and urging that the children begin their work of preparing art and handwriting exhibits. The teachers passed that information on, and by late last spring all of the exhibits for the school display were gathered together by the teachers preparatory for the fall exhibit.

Exhibits Were Stored

The various exhibits were stored during the summer by the teachers and turned in at the annual county institute. Then a committee of teachers took the displays to the fair and set up the school exhibit.

At the same time the 100 or more elementary and secondary school teachers were urging their students to participate in the fair development, year by year, of the youngsters, and they have helped produce the community-wide spirit which characterizes the fair and keeps people coming back year after.

Popular Feature

One of the most popular features of the fair—a feature developed over the past several years—is the annual tractor driving contest for members of the Future Farmers of America. Representatives of the agricultural education classes in the Adams and Franklin County schools pit their skill at the fair in operation of the farmer's primary helper—the tractor.

The contest is as much a demonstration of proper procedures and safety measures as a test of the skill of the young drivers. The judging is based on proper methods of maintenance of the vehicles, and adherence to safety rules as well as the ability to negotiate narrow corners with tractor and equipment and speed in attaching the equipment to the machine.

Great as is the interest in the children, the fair itself is a well balanced presentation of the year's work of all of Adams County.

Women's Display

In one building will be hundreds of articles made by the women of the county—quilts, dollies, tableclothes, napkins, dresses, coats, examples of quilting, hemstitching, knitting, and all the other arts in which women excel. And occasionally a mere man may enter some article of which he is proud—to put it in competition with the best that women can produce.

And there is always a building replete with a riot of colors and a thousand delicate and fragrant aromas—the flower section of the fair. Countians by the score bring the finest products of their gardens, the hundreds of different flowers, some tiny, with unusual pastel coloration, some large and elaborate, some odorless—some giving forth the sweet perfumes that enrich the air of summertime and early fall. Here are to be found a hundred different species and subspecies of the most beautiful creations.

Products Of Kitchen

In another building will be the creations of the kitchen of the county—cakes and pies, bread, canned goods of all descriptions; nearby will be a building with the products of the field, the huge ears of corn—showpieces because they are freaks and not sought otherwise because they are uneconomic. Each year the fair officials think about changing the corn displays to show the smaller, tender even ears that are the choice morsels of the table as "roastin' ears," and the hope of the farm, for they produce the greatest amount of good corn per acre.

Water Colors, Oils

But each year the contest is retained—for there is something satisfying and fascinating in beholding the towering cornstalks rushing up ten or 12 feet in the air, and the huge ears, each one of which could in itself feed a family.

Above one of the buildings is three letter sign spelling out the word "Art" and in it is a fascinating collection of the work of countians in water colors, oils, tinware painting, and even sculpture. Last year one of the features was a figure of a woman carved from wood by a local man. The same building usually contains the outstanding photographs made by countians during the year. No "snapshots" these, but compositions over which the local amateurs have spent hours and even days, first in getting the composition they desired and then in making the print so it will appear as a satisfying object of beauty.

Then there are the pigpens—and in them are examples of the best of the breeds—Poland-Chinas, with their white markings, Chester Whites, and all the others. Usually even some of the cross-breeds are shown, not yet eligible for prizes, but the coming thing in swine development, animals bred to produce the lean hams the slender bacon that the nation's breakfast tables demand. And the animals themselves will vary from tiny porkers, to huge boars and sows.

Display Of Horses

Near the swine are the stalls containing the horses placed on show for the fair. They include the huge, broad, powerful bodied work horses, capable of hauling tons of material if need be. Beside them, in enclosed stalls are the riding horses, pride of many a farmer.

With the work horses, usually dark contrast to the lighter colored riding horses, will be the work mules, again huge animals, though smaller than the horses. Spectators usually crowd around, when attendants release the horses and mules from their stalls and walk them a short distance to water and feed.

Nearly are the stalls housing the dairy herds displayed as examples of the many herds, large and small, that are becoming more and more a part of the county's farm life.

Daily Milking

Fascinating as the animals are in themselves, they also provide an opportunity for the urban dweller to watch the production of the milk they use—for cows need milking at least twice a day, and the every day chore of milking goes on, fair or no fair. Trucks

FIND BABY IN JUNIATA RIVER

NEWPORT, Pa. (AP)—A search party in boats found the body of 21-month-old William Beers in the Juniata River near here about 24 hours after the little boy had disappeared.

State police said Harry Little, 14, a Newport Boy Scout, stumbled upon the body as he waded the shallow stream with more than 60 other searchers yesterday.

The parents of the boy, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beers, of Oberlin, near Harrisburg, reported him missing while they and their five other children were on a picnic Wednesday. They said they last saw the child when he was playing with his twin brother.

Perry County Coroner Howard Bodorf said death was due to accidental drowning and said no autopsy or inquest would be held.

Mongolian In Moscow For Soviet Conference

MOSCOW (AP)—The Premier of the Soviet-Allied Mongolian People's Republic arrived in Moscow last night from his Central Asian capital of Ulan Bator to take part in the current Russia-Red China talks.

The Mongolian chief, Tse Den Bal, was welcomed at the airport by Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Although the Mongolian premier gave no hint as to why he had come to Moscow, it was obvious his trip was in connection with the important Soviet-Chinese talks.

In a speech at the airport Tse Den Bal stressed his country's loyalty and gratitude to the Soviet Union and its "ever-strengthening friendly relations" with Communist China.

Seek Merit System For Health Workers

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—A plea for establishment of a merit system to choose public health workers ended the State Health Department's first annual conference here.

Dr. Russell E. Teague, health secretary, told some 1,200 public health workers yesterday that a program for job classification of health department workers will be given to the state advisory health board at its next meeting.

Dr. I. Hope Alexander, Pittsburgh, president of the State Public Health Association, announced support of Teague's program, and asked others to make known their backing for a merit system.

Oldster Inventing Many Sports Gadgets

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—For a Johnny-come-lately inventor, 70-year-old Joe Parks is doing all right.

His inventiveness turned to sports since he has been a sportsman all his life, as well as a poultryman and banker. In the last year he has filed seven patents with the Patent Office that apparently are new and different. Among them are:

A leg fishing device that leaves the hands free for rowing.

A noiseless anchor that won't scare the fish. The weight can be increased by adding sand or gravel.

A fishing leader that can be retrieved from deep-hooked fish and another hook put on.

A rear-view boat mirror for row boats.

The word "nerve" originally meant tendon, but now refers to the structures through which the brain sends messages to the body, including much of the brain itself.

Parachutist Gets Pre-Jump Nerves

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Bert Craddock gets jumpy every time he gets ready to make a parachute jump. His wife gets jumpy too.

Bert, 38, has made 74 exhibition and training jumps in his 11-year jumping career. He packs his own parachutes.

A specialist in delayed jumps, he usually leaps from 3,500 feet and waits until he's 1,000 feet from the ground to pull the ripcord. Once, he says, air pressure prevented his chute from opening until he was only 200 feet up—and going down at the rate of 120 miles an hour.

$457,600 BRIDGE TOOL

SANDY POINT, Md. (AP)—The new Chesapeake Bay bridge that cost 45 million dollars to build took in $457,600 during its first four weeks of operation.

Bridge Director Louis J. O'Donnell said a total of 252,124 vehicles crossed the span during the period for an average of more than 9,000 per day.

* EDWARD VIII COIN FOUND

CALGARY, Alta. (AP)—A British West Africa one-cent piece—one of the few coins bearing the name of Edward VIII—turned up here. The owner, Duncan Hamilton, claims he has been offered as much as $50 for it.

Early observers of the moon believed incorrectly that the dark patches on its surface were oceans.

— late last spring — the county's agriculture education department was also swinging into action to guarantee that the Future Farmers would be represented, and the industrial arts teachers were also reminding their students of the need of producing outstanding examples of their skill for the fair.

Not all of the work of the children of the county is shown in the school display.

4-H Club Exhibits
In another building the 300 Adams County youngsters who make up the membership of the county's 4-H clubs will exhibit the products of their year's work. There will be dresses, and other garments garments, made by the girls who are in the home economics clubs; there will be exhibits by the pig clubs, and displays by the foods clubs showing new recipes for better eating.

Interest in the work of the children and young people of the county has paid off during the years, fair officials declare, in two ways. The exhibits have shown the development, year by year, of the youngsters, and they have helped produce the community-wide spirit which characterizes the fair and keeps people coming back year after.

Popular Feature
One of the most popular features of the fair — a feature developed over the past several years — is the annual tractor driving contest for members of the Future Farmers of America. Great as is the interest in the children, the fair itself is a well balanced presentation of the year's work of all of Adams County.

Women's Display
In one building will be hundreds of articles made by the women of the county — quilts, dollies, tableclothes, napkins, dresses, coats, examples of quilting, hemstitching, knitting, and all the other arts in which women excel. And occasionally a mere man may enter some article of which he is proud — to put it in competition with the best that women can produce.

And there is always a building replete with a riot of colors and a thousand delicate and fragrant aromas — the flower section of the fair. Countians by the score bring the finest products of their gardens, the hundreds of different flowers, some tiny, with unusual pastel coloration, some large and elaborate, some odorless — some giving forth the sweet perfumes that enrich the air of summertime and early fall. Here are to be found a hundred different species and subspecies of the most beautiful creations.

Products Of Kitchen
In another building will be the creations of the kitchen of the county — cakes and pies, bread, canned goods of all descriptions; nearby will be a building with the products of the field, the huge ears of corn — showpieces because they are freaks and not sought otherwise because they are uneconomic. Each year the fair officials think about changing the corn displays to show the smaller, tender even ears that are the choice morsels of the table as "roastin' ears," and the hope of the farm, for they produce the greatest amount of good corn per acre. Water Colors, Oils

But each year the contest is retained — for there is something satisfying and fascinating in beholding the towering cornstalks rushing up ten or 12 feet in the air, and the huge ears, each one of which could in itself feed a family.

Above one of the buildings is a three letter sign spelling out the word "Art" and in it is a fascinating collection of the work of countians in water colors, oils, tinware painting, and even sculpture. Last year one of the features was a figure of a woman carved from wood by a local man. The same building usually contains the outstanding photographs made by countians during the year. No "snapshots" these, but compositions over which the local amateurs of the art of photography have spent hours and even days, first in getting the composition they desired and then in making the print so it will appear as a satisfying object of beauty.

Then there are the pigpens — and in them are examples of the best of the breeds — Poland-Chinas, with their white markings, Chester Whites, and all the others. Usually even some of the cross-breeds are shown, not yet eligible for prizes, but the coming thing in swine development, animals bred to produce the lean hams the slender bacon that the nation's breakfast tables demand. And the animals themselves will vary from tiny porkers, to huge boars and sows.

Display Of Horses
Near the swine are the stalls containing the horses placed on show for the fair. They include the huge, broad, powerful bodied work horses, capable of hauling tons of material if need be. Beside them, in enclosed stalls are the riding horses, pride of many a farmer.

With the work horses, usually dark contrast to the lighter colored riding horses, will be the work mules, again huge animals, though smaller than the horses. Spectators usually crowd around, when attendants release the horses and mules from their stalls and walk them a short distance to water and feed.

Nearby are the stalls housing the dairy herds displayed as examples of the many herds, large and small, that are becoming more and more a part of the county's farm life.

Daily Milking
Fascinating as the animals are in themselves, they also provide an opportunity for the urban dweller to watch the production of the milk they use — for cows need milking at least twice a day, and the every day chore of milking goes on, fair or no fair. Trucks (Continued on Page 12)

back into the stall section. Milking machines are attached and undulate gently as they siphon the milk for the use of humans. Attendants scrub the animals and move the machines on from beast to beast, "handstripping" in between. The steel milk cans rattle as they are tossed, empty, from truck to attendant on the ground. And then, filled with pure warm milk, the cans gleam as men lift them into the truck to be rushed to cooling units on the farm.

It is a peaceful and farmlike scene — the livestock section at the fair. The cattle munch hay and look placidly at their visitors. Proud owners point, explaining to spectators the various good points of the cattle, the conformation of the body, and head, and back, the huge mammary veins that denote the good milk producer, the wide forehead, the large, well placed intelligent eyes.

Poultry Division

There is more noise in the poultry division. Large fat hens, their brownish red feathers shining in the light, cluck a comfortable conversation from pen to pen. Nervous white Leghorns keep their counsel or, on occasion, suddenly discover that they are on public display and set up a high-toned frightened cackle. Huge roosters strut as well as they can in cages and turn in dignity and pride to look down on the crowd. Occasionally, in warning, or merely to speak, they crow and add to the din.

In the addition to the commercial breeds there will be the more unusual fowls — the fancy breeds, bred through the long years to produce unique specimens, some with long feathery leggings, some with long, varicolored tails, chickens bred for beauty and chickens bred for a colorful game no longer allowed in this country: cock-fighting; tiny bantams, with magnificent plumage and a strange, half ludicrous dignity.

Displays Of Honey

Two displays, usually side by side, one larger than the other, draw great attention from the spectators. One is the honey display, usually provided by a few families, who keep the bees that to a large extent pollinate the orchards of the county. Glistening jars of golden honey make up the major portion of the display.

Besides the honey displays are the displays in the annual fruit exhibition. Here are the best products of the county's orchards and vines. Large purple and green grapes vie with light golden apples, transparent apples, Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, Grimes

Golden, York Imperial, the whole list of varieties grown in Adams County orchards. And gleaming golden beside the red of the apples will be the peaches, Elberta and Hales, fresh and ripe from the tree.

Big event of the fair on its closing date is the horse show, which began about five years ago and has grown in popularity every season. This year 18 events are scheduled ranging from small ponies to the spectacular jump. The new class is a children's pleasure horse event open to riders who have not reached their 18th birthday.

Enlarge Exhibit Space

This year's fair will be the biggest in the history of the organization. To handle all of the exhibits and displays the fair officials have cleared a section of woods adjacent to the area used for last year's festival. In that section two 60 by 100 tents have been placed to handle the overflow from the regular fair buildings and tents.

This year's fair will, in quantity of exhibits, in size and content, be a far cry from the first fair held shortly after the first World War. Those participating will be from throughout the county, where those at the first fair were from the immediate area around Arendtsville and Biglerville.

But the spirit of the fair — despite its vastly increased size — will remain the same: a gathering of neighbors, to display their best products and to gain new ideas for another year.

Woman Observes 100th Anniversary

TIDIOUTE, Pa. (P)—Mrs. Eleanor Gillilan, daughter of one Civil War veteran and widow of another celebrated her 100th birthday Thursday.

The Warren County Medical Society will present her a plaque tonight as having been, at 92, the oldest surgery case in the history of Warren General Hospital.

Her father, William Oliver, was killed in the Civil War. Her third husband, John F. Gillilan, who was the last surviving veteran of the War Between the States in Warren County, died in 1933 at the age of 92.

DECLARES DIVIDEND

WHEELING, W. Va. (P)—Wheeling Steel Corporation has declared a quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share on common stock, payable Oct. 1 to holders of record Sept. 5.

THE THREE WELLS

Three girls in an exciting, fast tumbling act. Each of these three young people is capable of performing brilliant, spectacular acrobatic stunts, and they work together with the greatest precision. Combining speed, grace, strength, and good showmanship, this act is much better than the average act of its kind. There is never a dull moment. The act is packed with thrills.

ALBANIAN REDS INVOKE DEATH FOR YOUTHS, 12

VIENNA, Austria (P)—Amid mounting reports of a Communist crack-down on children, Western sources reported today that Red Albania has extended the death penalty to children over 12 years old.

Only a few weeks ago, large-scale arrests of teen-agers were reported from Romania, but sources here said the new Albanian penal code is stronger than in any other Communist land, including the Soviet Union.

The new law, passed by the Albanian Parliament, goes into effect on Sept. 1. The sources here gave this description of it:

It provides death sentence for all persons over 12 convicted of "conspiracy against the state, damage to state property or economic sabotage." The age limit for conviction on other criminal offenses is 14 years.

Can't Criticize

The new Albanian code designed to suppress all attempts to overthrow the Communist regime, calls for heavy sentences for any activity against the political economic and social structure of the Red regime, or against the "peoples' authority and the social welfare."

Those who criticize "our friend, the Soviet Union" also are subject to jail terms.

Western sources here said the lowering of the death penalty age limit appeared to be part of an overall campaign behind the Iron Curtain.

In July, persons in Bucharest saw weeping children taken in open Romanian army trucks to prison.

Strange Charges

It was speculated that the children either were being held as hostages for the "good behavior" of their parents, or had been caught distributing anti-Communist pamphlets.

In Hungary, recent reports say, all school children of 13 and over must fill out questionnaires about their parents' background. Those from doubtful families are refused admission to universities.

In Czechoslovakia, the newspaper Rude Pravo said recently, "working class children must be given increased help... children of parents who hate the regime, or merely pretend to like it, will not be admitted to grammar schools."

SIX FINE ACTS SCHEDULED FOR SOUTH MT. FAIR

Six outstanding variety acts will be presented in the Broadway Revue on the stage of the Memorial Auditorium at the South Mountain Fairgrounds during the week of the 29th anniversary South Mountain Fair, September 2 through September 6.

The first performance will be held Tuesday evening, opening night of the fair. Shows will be given twice daily the remainder of the week at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening. A special added attraction Tuesday evening will be the 101 Ranch Boys.

The revue program will include the Three Wells, three girls in a tumbling act. Each one of the performers is publicized as a star in her own right and together they present a series of precision acrobatic stunts combining speed, grace, strength and good showmanship.

Chinese Trio

The Canton Trio is said to be one of the world's best Chinese acrobatic trios, performing individual and collective feats duplicated by performers of no other nationality.

Another girl trio is the Morrison Sisters, but unlike the acrobatic attraction, these young ladies are musically inclined. They sing and also play difficult numbers on the marimba.

Bicycle acts have been among the mainstays of vaudeville for years. Laflotte's bicycle act from Paris is acclaimed as one of the greatest of its kind in America. This show has appeared at Radio

THE JAYWALKERS

Sensational comedy, acrobatic, dancing, satire and Gags. Vaudeville headliners and TV stars. Recently played the Paramount Theater, New York, and the Palace Theater, in New York. Also the Chicago Theater and the Hollywood Bowl. They have been featured at the Chase Hotel in St. Louis, the Latin Quarter in New York City, and the Beverly Hills Country Club in Newport, Kentucky. A big hit always.

City Music Hall and on many television shows.

Another popular act in variety is that which has trained dogs and clowns. The South Mountain Fair is bringing, for its Memorial Auditorium presentation this year, with other acts, De Dio's Comedy Circus.

Three "Jaywalkers"

This act, which should prove popular with young and old alike, features well-trained dogs which perform at command, without recourse to whips or threats.

The "Jaywalkers" are the sixth attraction on the program at the fair. The three men have been vaudeville headliners for years and have won wide acclaim on television, with their comedy, acrobatics, dancing, satire and gags. They have played the Paramount and Palace theaters in New York City; the Chicago theater and the Hollywood Bowl and have been featured at the Chase Hotel in St. Louis, the Latin Quarter, New York City, and the Beverly Hills Country Club in Newport, Ky.

Westinghouse Gets Another Big Order

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. reported today receipt of an order of more than half a million dollars from the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. at Indiana Harbor, Ind., for electrical equipment for a continuous pickling line and for two shearing lines.

The order brings the total amount of Westinghouse Electrical equipment furnished for the Indiana harbor expansion project to nearly three million dollars.

GENERAL GROW GETS NEW POST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow was assigned to the Army's historical office Thursday—one month after he was convicted by a court martial of writing secret information in his personal diary.

The diary fell into the hands of Soviet agents and it was used as the basis of a propaganda attack earlier this year. The Army said it was taken from a hotel room in Frankfurt when Grow was on a visit.

Grow himself has never commented on the matter.

The court martial convicted Grow on two counts: Improperly recording secret information and failing to properly safeguard classified information.

Given Reprimand

He was sentenced to a reprimand and suspension from command of troops for a six-month period. He could have been dismissed from the service and imprisoned for five years.

In announcing Grow's new assignment today, the Army said he will report for duty at the Pentagon Sept. 2 in the office of the chief of military history, under the command of Maj. Gen. Orlando Ward.

Grow has been assigned to 2nd Army Headquarters in Maryland since shortly after his return to the U. S. last spring when it was discovered his diary had been copied by a Soviet agent.

Mushrooms contain about 90 per cent water.

DENTIST SAYS FLOURIDATED WATER COMING

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Frederick W. Herbine, president of the Pennsylvania State Dental Society, forecast today that most Pennsylvanians soon will be drinking flouridated water.

Addressing the annual health conference sponsored by the State Health Department, Dr. Herbine said:

"Today, the best method to bring about the mass prevention and reduction of dental caries (tooth decay) is the controlled flouridation of public water supplies."

Flouridation is the process of adding sodium fluoride to a community's water supply. Dentists claim the fluoride strengthens tooth enamel and so makes the tooth more resistant to decay.

Need Cooperation

"With continued effort on the part of local communities in cooperation with the local dental societies and the support of the State Department of Health and other agencies," he said, "the majority of the people in our state will soon be drinking flouridated water."

Flouridation is not a cure-all for dental ills, he emphasized. Prevention and control of decay must also be stressed through diet and nutrition, brushing of teeth, health talks and topical applications of the U. S. Public Health Service. He said hay fever and other allergies are on the increase and called for eradication of noxious weeds by state and local health agencies.

He estimated that from two to 10 per cent of Americans now suffer from allergies.

COVERED BRIDGE BURNS

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Alexander's bridge, a landmark just outside this Cumberland County seat since 1878, went up in flames recently.

One of the last covered bridges in this historic county, the span carried Long's Gap Road across Conodoguinet Creek.

The fire was discovered by an attendant at the Carlisle pumping station but was a mass of flames when firemen reached it. Shortly after, the structure collapsed.

C. E. MALOY JR. DIES

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—Charles E. Maloy Jr., 45, former president of the Pennsylvania Wholesale Hardware Association and director of the National Wholesale Hardware Association, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home Wednesday night.

He had just returned from a business trip to Harrisburg. His widow and four children survive.

SETTLE STRIKE OF 40 WORKERS IN DOVER PLANT

DOVER, N. J. (AP)—Some 400 AFL workers at the Eagle Picher plant here Thursday reached agreement with the company and ended a weeklong walkout.

The new contract also provides for a hospitalization and surgical plan paid for jointly by the union and management on a 50-50 basis, one more paid holiday a year; and three days paid leave of absence in case of death in the immediate family.

Average wages under the old contract were $1.45 an hour. The union, Local 1390 of the AFL Screen and Storm Sash Workers, had originally asked a 17-cent-an-hour increase.

Miners Resume Work
Terms of another strike settlement here also were announced. Some 200 miners at the Warren Foundry and Pipe Co. mine in nearby Rockaway Township, went back to work after a two-week strike. The mine produces iron ore and is the only active mine in New Jersey.

The settlement includes a 12 1/2-cent-an-hour across the board wage increase, retroactive to March 1. It also provides other increases in job classifications and incentive pay; three weeks paid vacation after 15 years of service; and extension of Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospital and medical plan to dependents of the workers.

The union involved is Local 732 of the United Auto Workers (CIO).

NAMED CONTROLLER
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Blaw-Knox Co. named Ralph W. Zeigler today as division controller of its chemical plants division. Zeigler has been with the firm since 1942.

THE MORRISON SISTERS

These three musical sisters are both beautiful and talented. Their act is something unusual in the musical field. They sing and also do beautiful, intricate numbers on the marimba. Their lovely dresses add to their attractiveness. One of the most sought after acts of its kind.

Fairfield

FAIRFIELD—The Fairfield Lions Club will present the Mills Brothers 3-ring circus on Tuesday, October 14. There will be two performances, afternoon and evening. Proceeds from the sale of tickets, which will be available from members of the club and at the gate, will be used for the benefit of the Charity and Activities Fund.

Mrs. Guy J. Kessler was hostess Thursday evening at a miscellaneous bridal shower given in honor of Miss Mae Reeve whose engagement to James B. Sager was announced recently. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the center piece of umbrellas and sprinkling cans.

The guests included Mrs. Robert Gilmore, Mrs. Donald Crouse, Mrs.

Raymond Miller, Mrs. Ernest Haines, Mrs. Wilbur Sites, Miss Helen Steinberger, Miss Shelby Dick, Mrs. Lennox Dick, Mrs. Luther Reeve and Mrs. Robert McClellan, Fairfield; Mrs. Gerald Heller, Mrs. Donald Kessler, Mrs. Jay Brown, and Miss Genevieve Redding, all of Gettysburg.

The guest of honor received many gifts. Refreshments were served.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Fairfield Community Fire Company will entertain all those who helped with the annual Fire Company Carnival at a picnic to be held Wednesday evening, September 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Martin.

M/Sgt. Kenneth Craumer has returned to the Marine Barracks, Hawthorne, Nev., after a leave spent with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sheads. Mrs. Miriam Zudrell and daughter, Elizabeth Ann, York, are continuing a vacation at Beach Haven, N. J., after a few days spent at the Sheads home.

The Officers Club of the Eastern Star met recently at the home of Mrs. C. L. Sheads. Associate hostesses were Miss Alice Snyder, Mrs. Naomi Schwartz, Mrs. Kathryn Kunkel, and Mrs. Raymond Sheely. A picnic lunch was served after which the evening was spent in playing cards.

Mr. and Mrs. James V. D. Lundy and family, Providence, R. I., spent the week end with Mrs. Lundy's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bushey have returned to their home in Burlington, Vt., after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bushey and family.

PRICE CONTROLS MAY BE LIFTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tighe E. Woods, the nation's new price boss said today he will ask the President to lift price controls if he finds the public does not want them.

He told reporters he will make his determination of the public attitude by touring the country next month. He said he'll ask housewives and others what they think about controls.

But Woods emphasized that he, personally, believes the price curbs should stay in effect.

Woods takes over as director of the Office of Price Stabilization next week, succeeding Ellis Arnall.

"Many say that the people don't care about controls," Woods said. "I want to find out whether there is any apathy toward the Office of Price Stabilization program or whether the people just don't understand it.

"What I want to get is the direct reaction of the people. I am sure they do not like the continued rises in the cost of living.

"If I find there is no interest in price controls throughout the country, I certainly would recommend to the President that controls be taken off and the money be put to other use."

Mrs. Anna Starry returned recently from a Canadian trip. She accompanied other persons by bus from Harrisburg, York Springs and Gettysburg. They visited Niagara Falls, Thousand Islands, Toronto, Montreal and Syracuse.

A Bit Of History About Your Own Adams County

This is the 31st in a series of historical talks given over Radio Station WGCT by Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, Adeline Sager professor of history at Gettysburg College, on some of the outstanding events and interesting episodes in the development of Adams County.

Because William Penn established Pennsylvania in 1681 as a place of refuge for those who were persecuted for religion's sake in Europe, and particularly for his Quaker Brethren in England, one of the most important elements in the population of provincial Pennsylvania was very naturally the Quaker element. At first, Friends settled in the area of the original counties in the extreme southeastern part of the province, but before long they joined the westward movement of the population to the area of present Lancaster County, and then on beyond the Susquehanna River.

The founding of the Sadsbury settlement of Friends about 1723 marked the first settlement, and there, as was natural, a monthly meeting was established in 1737 which for a dozen years had spiritual jurisdiction over the Friends who were moving into the frontier areas of Pennsylvania.

Columbia Founded
Not long after the settlement at Sadsbury, the movement proceeded to the Susquehanna River, and Hempfield, now Columbia, was founded. Among the settlers there were John Wright (who established Wright's Ferry, a principal crossing place), Robert Barber and Samuel Blunston. The latter, under authority of the Penns, had charge of recording lands taken up west of the Susquehanna until the land had been purchased from the Indians and proper title deeds given. The records of the first land grants west of the Susquehanna were the Blunston licenses, and some of the earliest grants in Adams County derive from these.

At Hempfield at first the westward migration was halted for a few years on account of the so-called Cresap's War, a disorder which grew out of the dispute between the Penns and the Baltimores over the location of the boundary separating the two provinces of Pennsylvania and Maryland. In the early 1730's the situation was improved sufficiently for those desiring to do so to move across the Susquehanna and take up land under the Blunston license system and after the land purchase of 1736 under proper deeds.

Soon there was a belt of Quaker settlements extending across the more northerly part of what is now York and Adams Counties. With the Quakers went also the Scotch-Irish and the Germans, each group finding particular sections of the new land according to its taste.

New Meeting Authorized
That the Sadsbury Meeting exercised effective jurisdiction over Friends settling west of the Susquehanna is apparent from the minutes of the meeting dated March 7, 1739, which stated: "There being divers families of Friends of late settled on the west side of the Susquehanna, some of them having produced certificates to this meeting from Kennett Meeting where they formerly dwelt, there being mentioned in one certificate bearing date of 7th month, 1738, . . . and other certificates bearing date of 4th and 5th month, 1738, certain persons whose names are given to the number of 10; all of whom are being received in membership with us."

At a later meeting in September, 1739, permission was granted certain Friends in and about the settlement of Newberry to hold meetings for worship every First Day and Fourth Day. On January 3, 1745, permission to hold a Preparative Meeting between Newberry and Warrington was granted. This was but the preliminary of a much more significant action taken by the Sadsbury Meeting in 1747. By that time, finding it increasingly difficult and inconvenient to transact their business through the Sadsbury Meeting, which was many miles across the river, certain Friends petitioned and received the right to establish Warrington Monthly Meeting. This was accomplished in September or October, 1747. At first, Warrington Monthly Meeting comprised Newberry Preparative Meeting and Warrington Preparative Meeting. These places were in the area of present-day York County.

Early Adams Settlers
York County was created as the fifth county of Pennsylvania in 1749, and included the territory which is now included in both York and Adams Counties. Very shortly after the beginning of settlement in present York County, settlement began in present Adams County. Among the earliest settlers were Friends who came into the northeastern part of the present area into present-day Menallen, Huntingdon, Latimore and Butler Twp's. As among those who had recently come into this country west of the Susquehanna they were also under the jurisdiction of the Sadsbury Meeting.

However, the same reasons for having their own preparative meetings as the people eastward had claimed led the Sadsbury Meeting to take the following actions: First, at a meeting on June 4, 1746, it was declared: "This meeting tolerates the Friends on Monahan to have meetings of worship to be kept on the First Day and Fifth Day until further orders." Secondly, at a meeting on February 16, 1748, it was noted: "Friends of Minallen request to have meeting settled." Later in the same year the meeting was regularly established.

But just as there were valid reasons why new preparative meetings needed to be established to meet the needs of the people, so there were valid reasons why a monthly meeting nearer at hand, and so more serviceable to the people in the outlying parts, should be made available. Accord'ly, Menallen and Huntingdon Preparative Meetings were joined with the Newberry and Warrington Preparative Meetings to enlarge the Warrington Monthly Meeting circulated among these four preparative meetings. In the course of time Menallen and Huntingdon Preparative Meetings came to feel that they had good and sufficient reasons to be made a separate monthly meeting. This was finally accomplished on October 9, 1780, 172 years ago. The two preparative meetings, Menallen and Huntingdon, have very interesting histories. Each will be described briefly.

Menallen Established
As already noted, Menallen Preparative Meeting was recognized

Center Exhibit Area Of So. Mt. Fair

and formally established in 1748. Shortly thereafter a tract of land on Opossum Creek, in present day Butler Twp., was received and a log meeting house was later built.

First Site Abandoned
It is said that the Nicholas Scull map of 1758 does not show a meeting house as of that date, but his map of 1770 does show a "Quakers Temple" on Opossum Creek. Here a cemetery was opened which is still to be recognized. In 1838 this original site was abandoned by the Menallen Friends, probably because it was too far from the center of residence of the members of the society. This center was farther to the northwest where such a concentration of Friends had been made that the designation "Quaker Valley" was originated.

Near this center of concentration a tract of land was purchased, and a double log meeting house was erected which served the society until 1884, when the present brick structure replaced it. The meeting remains active and has the authority of a Monthly Meeting, exerting its jurisdiction over a number of now inactive preparative meetings both in Adams and York Counties.

The original location was known as Friends' Grove. In 1838 a part of the Friends' Grove land was leased to the Brethren, or "Dunkards," at the rate of one dollar a year for a term of 50 years. This lease was renewed once, and later the entire property with the exception of the graveyard was sold to the Brethren, who have organized their congregation as the Friends' Grove Church of the Brethren. Menallen Monthly Meeting adheres to the Baltimore Yearly Meeting.

Huntingdon Meeting
Unauthorized meetings were held at Huntingdon as early as 1745. Some time afterward it became a recognized preparative and in 1766 land was conveyed on which was built a meeting house. In 1790 the present stone meeting house was erected, and the society flourished. During the past century it ceased activity, and its ing is held once a year as a commemoration.

The banner of Quakerism is therefore carried today by the Menallen Meeting. They and their ancestors have been an active and useful element in the population. In the earliest years the Friends of this area were largely Irish, many of the members indeed coming directly from Ireland. Others, coming from the eastern counties, however, seem to have contributed most of the distinctive names of the present-day Quaker community.

Many Cultures Represented
In any case, they have long since lost their old world connections, and have been stalwart supporters of a quiet way of life, enriched by the blessings of a rich land. Many of them have stayed close to the land, and today represent a progressive element in the agricultural life of the county. Especially have they promoted fruit-growing, some of them being among the principal originators of the fruit culture as an agricultural specialty. They have been leaders also in good government, and in education.

Any community may well pause and take thought of the early days of its life and of the people who laid the foundation upon which the present life is built. Adams County is the result of the efforts and qualities of several different national and religious groups. In fact, all of the principal groups which laid the foundations of our nation were represented in our colonial population.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A weekly record total of 3,503 new cases of infantile paralysis was reported to the U. S. Public Health Service for last week.

Announcing this Thursday, the service said the previous record for any one week since it has kept reports was 3,416 for a week in August, 1949. That was the year in which the highest annual total was recorded.

Despite the upsurge last week from 3,110 cases in the preceding week, this year's cumulative total since Jan. 1 ran 547 below the 1949 figure for the same period. There have been 19,980 cases this year and 20,327 in the 1949 period.

JURIES FORCING JURY REPORT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ellis N. Slack, acting assistant attorney general, has denied he was responsible for a St. Louis grand jury's making a partial report on its investigation of tax scandals in 1951. One juror has described the report as a "white wash."

Appearing before a House Judiciary subcommittee, Slack said: "I wish to emphatically state that the idea of a partial report was not mine, and that I had nothing to do with its drafting or its contents."

4 Jurors Testify
Four members of the grand jury testified earlier this week that they were under the impression the Justice Department wanted the report as it was made to Dist. Judge George H. Moore.

Collis T. Lovely, one of the jurors, had found nothing wrong in the handling of tax cases in the St. Louis area. Judge Moore called it "astonishing" and charged the jury to continue its probe. The continued inquiry eventually brought indictment and conviction of James P. Finnegan, the district tax collector, on charges of misconduct in office.

Slack, a career official in the Justice Department, appeared before the grand jury during its inquiry in the state before the partial report was returned.

23 Years Service
Slack is now acting head of the Justice Department's tax division. He told the House subcommittee "I have had 23 years of government service. I can truthfully say that during that time I have never done anything to hinder, slowdown or block the returning of an indictment."

Relating the relations he said he had with the St. Louis grand jury, Slack said that he reviewed for the grand jury the procedures governing the handling of tax cases by the Justice Department.

He said he discussed with the jurors a number of cases and "at that time the grand jury indicated that they were satisfied that these cases had been properly handled and said they did not desire to hear further from me along that line."

Slack added "I vigorously deny that I told the United States attorney the report was 'just what I wanted.'"

Drake Watson, the U. S. Attorney, now dead, has been quoted to that effect.

Treat fruit and berry stains at once, if possible; they are hard to remove after they dry. Boiling water (if it will not harm the stained material) or sometimes even warm water will remove most fruit stains. It is best not to use soap in treating the stain, as alkalies in the soap set some fruit and berry stains. Use the same methods for removing stains from cooked fruits and berries as from fresh.

Refiners Urged To Increase Output

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oil refining companies were on notice today that fuel shortages may develop along the Eastern Seaboard in the winter months unless they jack up their output of kerosene and home heating oil.

Deputy Petroleum Administrator J. Ed Warren urged that 31.8 per cent of crude oil going to refineries be converted to kerosene, home heating oil and diesel fuel, instead of only 30.6 per cent as presently scheduled.

If only 30.6 per cent of the crude

SALARY CREW PACT IS SIGNED

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The CIO United Steelworkers announced Thursday the conclusion of an interim collective bargaining agreement covering approximately 14,000 salaried workers in United States Steel Company's producing divisions.

The union said the Tennessee Coal and Iron division is not included in the agreement. It gave no reason.

The agreement follows terms of a settlement that ended the 54-day national steel strike and gave hourly workers an average 21-cent-an-hour wage boost. Current wage scale was approximately two dollars an hour.

Extends To June, 1954

The new pact will run to June 30, 1954, and can be reopened by either party one year earlier for salary rate discussions.

The company and union will continue negotiations on other contract provisions to reach a collective bargaining agreement as soon as possible.

The interim agreement provides for monthly increases ranging from approximately $24 to $56 a month depending on job classifications.

A portion of the raise is subject to approval by the Wage Stabilization Board. Present wage scales were not disclosed.

PLAN HEARINGS ON MILK PRICES

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Milk Control Commission has ordered hearings held next month on possible price increases for the Lancaster, Philadelphia and suburban Philadelphia milk marketing areas.

The interstate producers cooperative asked for the hearings in what the commission said was a move to seek a seasonal pricing plan for Lancaster.

The Lancaster hearing will be held Sept. 17 at Lancaster and those for the Philadelphia areas at Philadelphia on Sept. 18.

The federal government's seasonal price setup for Philadelphia calls for an increase to producers of 40 cents hundredweight on Oct. 1 and a 40 cent decrease on Jan. 1.

Current prices in the areas are Lancaster 23 cents a quart retail and $6.10 a hundredweight to pro-

Sheriff Eluded By Crafty Marine

PORTSMOUTH, O. (AP) — The Marines wanted Norman Roy Adams, 18, of West Portsmouth, for being absent without leave. Anna Lee Snyder, 27, wanted him for a husband.

So when the sheriff learned the couple applied for a marriage license, he set a trap to capture the marine when he returned for the license.

Instead, Adams sent the prospective bride, his brother and mother. Deputies trailed Miss Snyder but couldn't locate the marine. Adams showed up later. He said he was married and ready to take whatever punishment the Marines had to offer.

Deputies: Philadelphia and suburban areas, 23 1/2 cents a quart and $6.24 a hundredweight to producers in Philadelphia and $6.09 a hundredweight for suburban Philadelphia.

5 BOYS START CANOE TRIP

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP) — Five teen-age students shoved off here Thursday on a 250-mile canoe trip down the Allegheny River in the hope of setting a record. Their destination — Kittanning, Pa.

The quintet of Mercersburg Pa. Academy students lugged their three canoes here yesterday from Kittanning by truck. George Greenbaum, group spokesman, said they were set to push out from shore about two miles below this city.

"We hope to make it back to Kittanning in six days," George said. "If we do, we can beat a seven-day record set by some Boy Scouts seven or eight years ago."

The youth said the trip is just a between-term adventure for the five. He said they really wanted "to rough it."

Paddling along with Greenbaum were Bob Kelly, New Chester, Pa.; Harold Cohen and Louis Miller, both of Baltimore; and Ed Long, a South American student from Brazil.

LUKINS BOOSTS STEEL PRICES

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Lukens Steel Co. today announced an increase in the sales price of its nickel-clad, iron-clad, monel-clad and stainless steel-clad plates.

The company said the increases were in accordance with the general ceiling price regulations adjustments for iron and steel products issued by the Office of Price Stabilization.

"Extras," such as polishing, gas cutting and machining, will be increased along with the actual metal base prices, by 4.7 per cent. The price increases apply on shipments on or after July 26, according to J. Frederick Wiese, vice president in charge of sales.

The company also announced pay increases of 10 per cent, or $20 per 28 day accounting period, whichever is the greater, to salaried and day rate employees. The increase is granted on all base salaries up to $10,000 annually, unless individuals are notified otherwise. The salary and day-rate increases are retroactive to March 30, 1952.

Seek Murderer Of Labor Leader

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP) — Police searched today for the slayer of labor leader John Acropolis, found dead in his apartment here with a bullet hole in the back of his head.

The 43-year-old Acropolis, college-educated but known as a "tough guy" by his associates, was president of the Westchester Federation of Labor and Local 456 of the AFL Teamsters Union.

Acropolis was shot through the head with a .38-caliber bullet, police said.

2 RAILROADS AUTHORIZED TO INCREASE RATES

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—The State Public Utility Commission Thursday authorized the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Lines to boost fares for intrastate commutation service in South Jersey.

The commission drafted the schedule of higher fares after rejecting the companies' own proposals as inadequate. It gave the companies until Sept. 5 to accept the schedule, and said the increased fares could go into effect on five days' notice to the public.

In its announcement, the commission said the authorized rates would "in general conform with the present interstate fares." It added, however, for distances between five and 12 miles the fares (would) exceed the present interstate fares by nominal amounts ranging from 20 to 60 cents on the unrestricted monthly ticket, from 20 to 55 cents on the restricted monthly ticket, and from five to 15 cents on the unrestricted weekly ticket, and conform with fares for these distances proposed by the Interstate Commerce Commission examiner.

The area affected by the proposed fare hikes takes in all points on the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Lines which have commutation service and points on the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad company between Camden and Trenton via Burlington and between Camden and Pemberton.

The commission said it found that the companies' intrastate commutation service was being operated at a loss, and added

"The petitioners are entitled to some relief in the premises and to additional revenue to help offset losses and permit them to better meet their obligation to provide safe, adequate and proper service to the public in South Jersey."

HEART STOPS 26 MINUTES; LIVES

LATROBE, Pa. (AP)—A man whose heart quit beating 26 minutes on the operating table, according to his doctors, is recovering today at his home.

Marcus G. Riddell, operator of a candy distributing firm, expects to be back at work with a normal heart, within a year.

He is convalescing in the pleasant company of his fourth child, a son, Christopher Bailey Riddell, born two weeks ago.

Had Two Operations

Riddell underwent two operations in a Philadelphia hospital to relieve closing of the mitral valve which helps pump blood through the heart. It was during the second operation, on July 23, that his heart stopped. Neither Riddell nor his wife, awaiting the arrival of her baby, was told of the stoppage until after their return home.

Riddell said, however, he thought "something was up" when various surgeons kept visiting him at the hospital. He asked an attendant why and was told

"You are the last person to see St. Peter."

Closing of the mitral valve diverts blood back into the lungs instead of through the heart and into the arteries. A victim is said to "drown in his own blood."

As Riddell's incision was closed, his heart stopped. Doctors re-entered the cavity to provide life-saving finger massage.

Riddell lost 35 pounds during the illness and operations.

ACCEPT RESIGNATION

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Game Commission today accepted the resignation of Irwin A. Weibel Jr., RD 2, Meadville, as district game protector. The post paid $3,330.

In former times, many African tribes kept cattle for use as a form of currency and seldom slaughtered them for food.
